Full-size jail will be built

Construction should begin in the near future of a new 106-cell Madison County Jail as construction bids totaling $4,375,825 were accepted by the Madison County Board yesterday morning and contracts are to be signed for the construction tomorrow. The facility is to be constructed near downtown Edwardsville.

S. M. Wilson Co. of Granite City, low bidder for the general jail construction, was awarded contracts totaling $2,085,478. Other successful bidders were: plumbing, General Refrigeration and Plumbing Co., East Alton, $943,227; electrical, Wegman Electric, Wood River, $464,980; food service equipment, Southern Equipment, St. Louis, $61,130; and jail equipment, Stewart-Decatur Security Systems, Inc., St. Louis, $821,000.

The county has $4 million available from a jail bond issue for the construction, but the question has been from where the additional funds will come.

Wounded 4 times

Billy Creek, 26, of 2122 Dewey Ave., is recuperating in satisfactory condition today in St. Elizabeth Hospital after being shot four times during a disturbance at 2022 Missouri Ave. at 2:40 p.m. Wednesday.

Police were told someone had called for an ambulance at that address for a shooting victim and officers found Creek being placed on a stretcher when they arrived.

Two officers entered the house through a rear kitchen door, noting that the window in the door was broken. Inside they found blood about five feet inside the kitchen and broken glass on the kitchen floor. They talked to a man in the kitchen who was believed to have witnessed the fight in which several shots were fired. Paint is causing red faces

An investigation into the city street department's procedure for buying paint was ordered by the Granite City Council Tuesday night after the aldermen were told the city has lost thousands of dollars in state reimbursements through failure to acquire paint for street-stripping purposes through state bidding practices.

The board's Central Services Committee, which opened the bids, recommended that the county accept the bid from Boswell's Pro Tune-Up Auto-Track Electric of East Alton, which offered to work on the cars at a labor cost of $11 per hour. Beuckman's bid was

In supporting one of the points of the inventory system regarding bidding procedures, Alderman Ronald Coleman of the Seventh Ward said he particularly favored bidding provisions contained in the program because of the high cost of minor items when bought separately by different city departments throughout the year.

At the same time, Coleman said the city apparently has lost considerable money in state reimbursements that were available after the city bought a $15,000 street-stripping machine nearly two years ago. He noted that the state required paint purchases through bidding to qualify for the reimbursements, but this was not done. Lionel Portell, city street superintendent, was asked if paint was obtained through the state bidding and if any records had been kept as to the lineal feet of striping work done, another requirement for obtaining state reimbursements. "I have been buying paint that meets state specifications," he said.

Industrial bonds OK'd

A resolution implementing a memorandum of intent under which Granite City plans to issue $800,000 in revenue bonds for construction of a steel processing plant by the Peralloy Corp. of Chicago was approved unanimously by City Council members Tuesday night.

Approval of the resolution authorized Mayor Paul Schuler and City Clerk Robert Stevens to sign the memorandum agreement. The agreement was signed and delivered to company officials immediately after the council acted in the matter.

N.J. Murphy, president of the corporation, told council members before they voted that the agreement will complete the city's and the company's contract for construction of a steel processing plant on a tract of land southwest of 25th Street and the railroad tracks.

Low bid doubted, ignored

Amid a storm of controversy, the Madison County Board yesterday morning selected Bo Beuckman Ford of Collinsville to continue to repair Madison County Sheriff's Department squad cars, even though Beuckman's bid was higher than the bid of an East Alton garage.

Doubt was voiced that the low bid was realistic and could be fulfilled. The board's Central Services Committee, which opened the bids, recommended that the county accept the bid from Boswell's Pro Tune-Up Auto-Track Electric of East Alton, which offered to work on the cars at a labor cost of $11 per hour. Beuckman's bid was $15.98 per hour for labor. Board Member Rodger Elbie of Wood River, chairman of the Central Services Committee, contended that accepting the Boswell bid would save the county 44 per cent over Beuckman's bid on body work, 14 per cent on labor for engine repairs and 15 per cent on parts.

The first vote taken was on the committee's recommendation to accept the Boswell bid and was defeated 11 to 16. A vote then was taken to accept the second lowest bid, from Beuckman, and it passed 17 to 10.

Board Member James R. Heil of Alton questioned whether the county could be in legal trouble from turning down the low bid. Assistant Madison County State's Attorney Don Smith said the county can justify the action on the basis it feels the "actual cost" of using the low bidder

12-year court experience gives new judge confidence

Despite the possibility that he will have competition in the Democratic primary election next March, A. A. Matoesian of Granite City is overjoyed at being selected Tuesday as a circuit judge. He believes his 12 years as an associate judge will enable him to perform well from the start of his new duties. The formal transition is to take place as soon as documents arrive here from the Illinois Supreme Court in Springfield.

The Supreme Court unanimously named Matoesian, 40, of 2836 State St., as a circuit judge in the Third Judicial Circuit Court of Madison and Bond Counties. The appointment fills a vacancy created by the resignation this summer of Circuit Judge John Gitchoff to return to private law practice. Matoesian will serve until a judge is elected in November 1978. In the spring primary, he is expected to be challenged by Attorney Bill Brandt of Granite City, Associate Judge John Day of Wood River or others for the Democratic nomination for circuit judge.

Circuit judges run in one political primary and one general election as partisan candidates. Thereafter, a non-partisan vote is held on their retention in office. Matoesian told the Press-Record that he believes he had the support of many of the circuit judges in this circuit as well as the support of Supreme Court Justice Joseph Goldenhersh of Belleville.

Goldenhersh recommended Matoesian's appointment to the high court. Matoesian, however, was not the choice of the Madison County Democratic Party organization, which backed Brandt for the nomination. "Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer, who also is chairman of the county's Democratic Central Committee, told newsmen that he 'isn't unhappy' but that he had backed Brandt for the position."

The nomination gives Matoesian a $5,000 per year raise. Associate Judges receive $37,500 per year and circuit judges are paid $48,500. Matoesian told the Press-Record that he believes he had the support of many of the circuit judges in this circuit as well as the support of Supreme Court Justice Joseph Goldenhersh of Belleville.

STORM SEWER LINE is installed along the right-of-way of Wabash Avenue between Richmond and Amos Avenues Tuesday morning by the C. D. Peters Construction Co. Six hundred feet of the 24-inch line is being installed with 12 catchbasins to allow better drainage of the area. Some sections of sanitary sewer lines also were replaced to allow for the added weight of the new line.

Boys to be questioned in burglary

Five boys, ages 11 to 14, were to be questioned by juvenile authorities this week in connection with a weekend burglary at Lake School, East 23rd Street and Route 162.

At 3:50 p.m. Sunday, officers found a gymnasium scooter in the 2700 block of Marshall Avenue which had Lake School stamped on the bottom.

Neighbors reported a group of youths had been seen Saturday night and Sunday morning throwing the scooter under passing cars on Marshall Avenue.

One man overheard one boy asking others, "Should I get rid of this thing?" The scooter then was thrown in a yard, police were told.

Officers checked the school, but found no signs of a break-in.

At 3 p.m. Sunday, however, officers noticed Lake School had been stamped on a rear door and a child's notebook was found outside the rear door.

They checked further and found a broken window on the second floor of the gymnasium. Half of a concrete block had been thrown through the window and entry was believed gained by climbing the downspout and crawling through the window. The front door to the gymnasium was found to be slightly open.

School officials aided police in searching the building, but no one was found inside.

Parents of the five youths seen with the school scooter were requested to have their children meet with a police juvenile officer today.

In an unrelated case, police noticed at 10:05 a.m. Sunday that a window to the audiovisual room of Grigsby Junior High School had been broken and the school entered.

A cart of books was moved near the broken window and one book was found outside. It is not known if anything was stolen.

Police found bicycle tracks near the window.

Steel financing systems differ

(Ninth of a series)

Not even the Japanese can ignore the requirement of earning a return on equity in their steelmaking.

But such equity in Japan is a relatively small proportion of the typical company's total financial base.

In this sense, Japanese companies have very different profit and capital formation requirements than U.S. companies.

And in Japan, organizations which are favored by the Central Bank can pursue aggressive expansion plans without the large equity base and correspondingly large earnings requirement that would apply to a U.S. company.

The Japanese system of financing also affects the behavior of Japanese steel producers in a market downturn.

This issue is illustrated by a comparison of the cost elements per ton of steel for two hypothetical Japanese steel producers in 1975.

In this example, the price and all costs are assumed to be identical except those costs resulting from financial structure, i.e., interest, income taxes and profit.

The fixed costs per unit output figures are based on an assumed operating rate of 85 per cent. Company A has a financial structure typical for Japanese steel producers; Company B represents the same Japanese company with a financial structure typical for U.S. producers.

It clearly shows an advantage of leverage—a higher rate of return on equity at normal operating rates.

The more leveraged firm, Company A, can earn 10.0 per cent after tax with a $221.48 per ton price and an 85 per cent operating rate, while the other company can only earn 6.7 per cent at this price and operating rate.

The lower return for Company B is due to its larger equity base and the need to pay taxes on income before the return is calculated.

To fully appreciate the impact of financial leverage, however, it is also necessary to consider the relative change in the rates of return on equity as the two hypothetical companies move away from normal operating rates.

If the fixed operating costs and interest allocated to a ton of output are $44 for Company A at the 85 per cent operating rate, then at a 75.83 per cent operating rate, the unit allocation would be $48.68.

The fixed charges do not actually change; however, at lower operating rates, the same total fixed charges must be prorated over fewer tons.

This increase in fixed unit costs would effectively eliminate any profit for Company A, since the sum of fixed plus variable costs would now equal the selling price.

Under the same conditions, namely a reduction to a 75.83 per cent operating rate, Company B would show a 4.9 per cent return on equity.

Unit fixed costs would increase to $38.85, profit before tax would decline to $9.85, and after-tax profit would be $6.68.

Thus, the disadvantage of leverage is that a highly leveraged company is much more sensitive to small changes in its operating rate than an otherwise similar company which relies more heavily on equity.

Even this example, however, conceals the degree of risk in the Japanese structure because it assumes that labor is a variable cost.

In fact, total employment costs in Japan in 1974 were $38.46 per ton, of which roughly 70 per cent (26.92) consisted of regular employees' wages (as opposed to contract labor).

If one assumes that regular employees represent a fixed cost, due to the well-known Japanese policy of maintaining permanent employment for certain classes of workers, then the total fixed cost for Company A becomes $81.16 at the 85 per cent operating rate, and Company B's fixed cost becomes a precariously high 79.74 per cent.

The net effect of these relationships is that the typical Japanese steel company, because of its enormous debt burden and the permanency of its regular work force, has a break-even operating rate of about 80 per cent—an extremely high level to maintain consistently.

The same Japanese company operating with the typical U.S. debt structure would have a break-even rate of about 70 per cent.

Thus, Japanese companies as a result of their financial and employment policies are immediately threatened with poor profits or even losses whenever their operating rates begin to decline, and they are under tremendous pressure to keep operating rates high.

Another result of high leverage is that Japanese steel companies have potentially volatile earnings.

Reduction in operating rate from 85 to 80 per cent reduces the "typical" Japanese steel company's earnings from a respectable 10 per cent return on equity to zero.

Conversely, at the maximum sustainable rate of 90 per cent, and assuming constant prices, a Japanese steel firm would earn in excess of 15 per cent.

The same Japanese company with U.S. debt levels would operate in a much "safer" range on the downside and would achieve less brilliant results in good times.

For example, at the 80 per cent rate, the U.S. debt structure would yield a 5.6 per cent return on equity—poor, but not necessarily cause for panic.

The intrinsic volatility of Japanese earnings, brought about principally by the remarkably "thin" equity base (by U.S. standards) of Japanese companies, is not necessarily obvious in a study of the historical earnings performance of Japanese companies.

First, the potential volatility has been minimized by intercompany programs, which have kept operating rates high.

Second, Japanese companies maintain accounting "reserves" in good times which are used to preserve reported earnings in bad times.

There is little question, for example, that some portion of the unusually high earnings of 1973-1974 were used to bolster reported results in 1975 when operating rates fell to levels which were at or below the break-even point for many Japanese steel producers.

Nevertheless, even though the historic reported earnings of Japanese companies do not show an unusually unstable pattern, the highly-leveraged financial structure of the Japanese steel industry represents an extraordinary risk—both for the industry and for Japan's trading partners.

Certainly, Japanese steel companies and workers have earned the rewards of this system—in the form of high growth, increased employment, earnings and profits.

Whether or not the Japanese have equally shared in the risk is quite another matter.

The risk relates to how the system can be sustained in a downturn.

With no equity cushion, the problem of excess capacity in Japan becomes critical; the traditional solution to this problem has been to increase exports.

Faces 4 charges after chase

Scott A. Howell, 19, of 2430 Adams St., was charged with reckless driving, driving while under the influence of liquor, driving while a broken windshield obstructed his vision and resisting arrest after police stopped his car in the 2200 block of Dewey Avenue at 12:45 a.m. Wednesday.

Police said they saw an auto with a broken front windshield northbound on Illinois Avenue at 22nd Street, weaving from lane to lane and nearly striking a parked car.

The auto pulled into a driveway and stopped and police questioned the driver and released him after a verbal reprimand, ordering him not to drive the auto again that night.

About five minutes later, officers said, the auto was seen eastbound on 22nd Street. Using red lights, a squad car chased the vehicle to Missouri Avenue, where he allegedly threatened the life of an officer and his family and resisted when police tried to take his property. A scuffle was necessary to get him into a jail cell, it was alleged.

Low bid

discussion followed, with Beuckman himself, silently watching the proceedings from the back of the board room. Elbie said he had visited the Boswell garage Tuesday and had talked with persons who have had work done by the company.

He said he believed Boswell could give the county adequate service.

But Wayne Bridgewater, Roxana, questioned the 40 per cent discount on parts included in Boswell's bid. Beuckman's was a 26 per cent discount.

Bridgewater read a letter from the county's chief mechanic, Eberhart, in which Eberhart said dealers themselves can only get as much as a 30 per cent discount and that Boswell could not possibly give customers 40 per cent off on parts.

The chief mechanic had visited the Boswell establishment but had not gone inside, it was noted.

Fred Dalton, Collinsville, said he "wasn't plugging" for anyone, but questioned how Boswell could offer an $11 per hour labor charge when the going rate is $16.50 in the Alton area, $16 in Granite City and $15.50 in Collinsville.

Beuckman's bid was $15.98 per hour for labor; Boswell's was $11 per hour for body work and paint and $14 per hour for mechanical repair and service. "Can't we cancel the contract if Boswell doesn't fulfill his promise?" asked Jack Frandsen, Alhambra. Yes, he was told.

"The newspapers say this is a monopoly. It isn't," Board Chairman Hagnauer said.

"No one can say Beuckman didn't do the job. I'm sick and tired of the newspapers saying Bo is my political enemy."

Last year was the first time the sheriff's car repairs were put out for formal bids. In previous years, it had gone to Beuckman without bidding.

Last year, when bids were taken, Beuckman was the only bidder.

Hagnauer said it was important to award the bid to "the one we know can do the job."

Lawrence Speelman, Troy, then said that he himself is able to get a 40 per cent discount on parts from a number of places.

The board first voted on acceptance of the Boswell bid and it was defeated. The Beuckman bid was then accepted.

Voting against approval of the contract with Beuckman were Charlie Bode, Edwardsville; Anthony Bosich, Wood River; Jim Greene, Alton; James Heil, Godfrey; Mrs. Alton May, Alton; Richard Worthen, Alton; Elbie, Frandsen and Speelman.

Since the county is bound by law to accept the low bid, Heil asked the legal ramifications of accepting the apparent second lowest bid.

Smith said the choosing of a higher bid can be justified on the basis of actual cost or on quality of work.

PARKING EXPANSION at St. Elizabeth Hospital is underway with construction of a 450-car facility at 21st and Iowa Streets. The new facility is being built on the site of an older parking lot which was reserved for staff and doctors. The four-level facility will be a pay lot but will be available to visitors as well as employees of the hospital. The facility will take approximately eight months to complete.

State's Attorney Nicholas Byron noted that the courts might ultimately determine such justification. The sheriff's car repair contract was first bid earlier this summer, with the low bidder of two Ferguson Trucking of South Roxana. That firm bid $18 per hour on labor; the other bid $18.50. The Ferguson firm did not include a discount for parts. Instead of acting on the bids, the County Board last month voted to readvertise.

The vote yesterday on the contract left the opposing board members disgruntled.

"I don't think it's right," Bosich said. "I'm tired."

Later in the meeting, Hagnauer again returned to the subject of friends and political cronies. He said that persons with S. M. Wilson, general contractor for a new county jail, and also Henry Gabriel, the jail's architect, are his friends but aren't his political cronies.

In other business, the board authorized the county to apply for a $58,000 grant from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission to continue the Public Defender Upgrade project. The county will pay $5,000 of the program's cost.

A certified list of election judges for the April primary election was discussed and County Clerk Evelyn Bowles noted the list is only 40 per cent complete. She said board members should have additional judges sign the list at the county clerk's office and then be certified.

Resolutions for the county to acquire two parcels of property and real estate were tabled without explanation. The resolutions call for purchase of the Musso building near the county courthouse and for the exchange of property on Third Avenue in Edwardsville between Calvary Southern Baptist Church and the county.

Approved was a resolution to allocate $53,269 in anti-recession grants to the sheriff's department for payroll purposes, and a resolution to advertise for bids for an outside independent auditor to audit the county's books for the fiscal year which will end Nov. 30.

Also adopted was a resolution authorizing the county superintendent of highways and the highway committee to initiate agreements for engineering services and for preparation of plans for bridges at several locations in the county.

The board agreed to recess the meeting until 9:30 a.m.

Churches will observe Bishop O'Connor's 50 years as priest

Bishop William A. O'Connor, retired bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Springfield, will observe his golden anniversary in the priesthood Saturday at Springfield.

At his request, there will be no public observance.

A Mass of Thanksgiving will be offered for Bishop O'Connor in every parish and mission church in the diocese during the weekend. Each parish is also participating in a spiritual bouquet for the bishop.

Now 73, Bishop O'Connor retired in July 1970 after serving for more than 26 years as bishop of Springfield. He resides in a small private home near the cathedral.

He observed his silver anniversary as a bishop on St.

Patrick's Day, March 17, 1974. After serving another year and four months as bishop of Springfield, he resigned for reasons of age. The announcement of his resignation was made July 22, 1975, by Archbishop Jean Jadot, apostolic delegate in the United States.

At the same time, Archbishop Jadot announced the appointment by Pope Paul VI of Bishop Joseph A. McNicholas of St. Louis to succeed Bishop O'Connor.

Following the announcement, Bishop O'Connor said, "I am very happy that Pope Paul has blessed our diocese with the appointment of a wonderful new bishop. I am grateful to Our Holy Father for accepting my resignation to give new leadership to our diocese."

Bishop O'Connor was installed as the fifth bishop of the diocese and enthroned in the cathedral at Springfield on March 17, 1949, by Samuel Cardinal Stritch, late archbishop of Chicago.

He succeeded Bishop James A. Griffin, who served the diocese from Feb. 28, 1924, until his death on Aug. 5, 1948.

Bishop O'Connor was born Dec. 27, 1903. His father, John J. O'Connor, died June 30, 1941, and his mother, the former Mary M. Murphy, died June 3, 1947. Four brothers and two sisters also are deceased. He has one brother, Leonard, and a sister, Mrs. Charles (Mary) Gould, both of Chicago.

The bishop received his elementary education at Our Lady Help of Christians School, Chicago, Quigley Preparatory Seminary, Chicago, and St. Mary of the Lake Seminary, Mundelein.

He was ordained by the late Cardinal Mundelein, Sept. 24, 1927, and from 1928 to 1930 took postgraduate studies at the College of Propaganda in Rome, where he earned Ph.D. and STD degrees.

In 1930-35, he served as a professor of Latin at Quigley, and in 1936 he studied at the New York School of Social Work. After returning to Chicago, he was appointed superintendent of St. Mary's Training School, Des Plaines, where he had more than 800 boys and girls under his care.

In 1938 he was named archdiocesan director of charities, an assignment he held until his appointment as bishop of Springfield. During the same time, he served as spiritual director, Metropolitan Central Council of Chicago, Society of St. Vincent de Paul.

In 1943, he served as chaplain of the Diocesan Director of Catholic Charities and in 1944 as president of the National Conference of Catholic Charities.

Pope Pius XII named him domestic prelate with the title of right reverend monsignor in 1948. Two years later, on Dec. 28, 1948, Pope Pius named him as the fifth bishop of Springfield.

Donations to Lonnie Laster fund $3,157

Recent donations to the fund aiding Lonnie Laster, 15, have brought the total raised by local groups to $3,157, but the family still owes about $40,000 in medical bills, friends announced this week.

Lonnie was injured severely when struck by a train in Granite City March 16. His right arm was severed, his legs were broken in 11 places, his ribs were crushed and his head was hurt.

A fund in his name has been established at First Granite City National Bank to help the family in meeting medical bills.

Recent donations have included $500 from the Orville Street Church of God, $300 from Sider Supply Co., $300 from the local Avon representatives, and donations from the Malden, Mo., Pentecostal Church and New Hope Baptist Church here.

Friends reported Lonnie is in room 411 of St. Elizabeth Hospital and is being fed by mouth, rather than through tubes or needles. He is not allowed visitors, but family friends send cards, prayers and donations to the fund are appreciated.

Cougars will open at home Saturday against Rockhurst

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer team will open its home season this Saturday at Cougar Field against a strong (4-0) Rockhurst College club from Kansas City.

Coach Bob Guelker's SIUE kickers, who have won two and lost one regularly scheduled game and defeated Indiana U. 1-0 in an exhibition contest, prepared for their meeting with Rockhurst by turning back a star-studded SIUE alumni squad during the weekend, 3-1.

Nine of the Alumni are currently in pro soccer and their lone goal was scored by the St. Louis Stars' John Stremlau on an assist from Tom Howe. The current Cougars dominated the first half but were held scoreless even though they outshot the old-timers, 13 to five.

At 52:52, SIUE freshman Don Ebert, who appears ready to take his place in SIUE soccer history — along with the Carezza brothers, the already mentioned Stremlau, Tim Twellman and Jack Blake as leading scorers — put the varsity out in front when he took a pass from Brian Higgins.

Another first-year standout, Matt Malloy, increased the varsity's lead to 2-0 when he was hit by a pass from Tim Clark and booted it past Alumni goalie Chester Kowalewski. Stremlau's goal at 75:59 cut the varsity's lead, but at 88:36 another SIUE freshman star, Tim Guelker, alertly pounced on a rebound of a shot by Chris Cacciatore to boot the ball in for the victory.

Tony Giamanco, in goal for the Alumni the second half, put on a dazzling show of goal keeping as he turned back seven straight point-blank shots. In all, the varsity outshot the Alumni, 34 to 10.

In this weekend's game with Rockhurst, Cougar soccer fans will get their first look at Bob Bozada, freshman phenom who played his prep soccer at Aquinas High.

Out with a knee injury, Bozada, a midfielder, has been compared to the Cougars' two-time All-American defensive star, Greg Makowski. He is being counted on to fill a void at midfield caused by the graduation of Mark Moran, now with the Minnesota Kicks of the North American Soccer League.

Sanitary district trustees split on payroll reduction

The Metro-East Sanitary District is running short of funds and should dismiss at least five employees to be able to meet salaries by November, Russell Robinson of Granite City, chairman of the district board, said this week.

But the three St. Clair County members of the five-man board declined to agree with Robinson and refused to go along with a payroll reduction.

Robinson told the board that the district payroll has climbed to $32,000 for each two-week pay period and should be reduced to at least $28,000 to reserve enough funds to meet payrolls during the last two months of the year. The district's fiscal year begins Jan. 1, the same as the calendar year.

Omar Brummitt of Cahokia, a member of the board, remarked in a meeting Monday that "We can't get the work done and cut the payroll."

Robert Eastern, board member of East St. Louis, contended the district has the money to meet payrolls, and that he opposed firing any workers. Eastern and Brummitt said that John Ehrhardt of Washington Park agrees with them.

Robinson said that it will be necessary to lay off five non-union employees to bring costs to the level that the district can meet future payrolls.

The disagreement is the second in a week between St. Clair and Madison board members, indicating that a split is developing along county lines. Robinson and Leonard Hylla of Madison are Madison County members of the district board. The three St. Clair county members make up a majority at this time.

Economies expected from inventory plan

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Sept. 22, 1977 Page 8

A four-point plan to effect economies in the Granite City government was ordered implemented by the City Council Tuesday night.

On a motion by Alderman Paul R. Bowler, chairman of the council's Finance Committee, the council adopted recommendations of a program outlined by the Finance Committee and urged for adoption two weeks ago.

It includes a central inventory system which requires each city department head to supply an itemized inventory on an annual basis.

Finance officials said this should provide information that would permit purchases to be made in greater quantities, thus effecting savings through bidding.

Other facets of the four-point plan include:

The chairman of each committee of the City Council should appraise and recommend what measures should be taken in each department to make it a more efficient unit of government, with a specific view toward examining and determining what personnel is absolutely necessary to make these departments function adequately.

In departments with overtime, a minimum amount of overtime should be calculated and then where possible and feasible implement "split shifts" Monday through Friday and Tuesday through Saturday, and-or 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. and 1 p.m. to 9 p.m., thereby utilizing the most working hours for the least amount of taxpayers' money.

Cleaning service for the City Hall should be offered for bidding to determine if this is a cheaper method than full-time employees.

In use of a central inventory system, the Finance Committee said:

"It shall be necessary for the head of each department to complete a comprehensive inventory list of all existing supplies and equipment under his control and to submit such list to the Finance Committee of the City Council on or before Oct. 1.

"In addition to the inventory list, a list of estimated need for supplies and equipment for the year beginning May 1, 1978, should be submitted, showing an itemized breakdown.

"After these items are submitted, all similar items will be consolidated and advertisements for bids by the city clerk shall commence immediately. The intention of this procedure is to receive bids on a larger scale so that centralized purchasing power can lower the cost of purchases overall, resulting in less expenditure for each department."

Rail spur to Madison plant sites

The City of Madison has been awarded a $144,600 grant by the Economic Development Administration (EDA) for construction of a railroad spur into the Maerz Industrial Park.

Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk said at the City Council meeting Tuesday night, "I received a telephone call today from Senator Charles Percy who informed me that our application for a grant to build the railroad spur has been approved."

"We still have a few details to work out with the adjoining railroad property. We can build the spur on our own property, but it would be better if the railroad would negotiate with us."

"This spur will be of great value to the industry already in the park, and on future expansion," Sasyk emphasized.

The council awarded a contract to purchase a utility van for the burglary alarm department to B. E. Holt Ford Co. of Granite City for $5,078.

Alderman Don Reeves, chairman of the purchasing committee, in recommending the Holt bid said, "The purchasing committee realizes that this is not low bid. However, after studying all bids we feel this van meets our requirements and the auto agency is much closer for service."

Other bids on the van were Big Four Chevrolet of Collinsville, $5,254; Bo Beckman Ford of Collinsville, $4,950; and Brodhead Motors of East St. Louis, $5,067.

A contract was awarded for a pickup truck for the Recreation department to Brodhead Ford for $4,498, which was low bid submitted.

Chief of Police Donald L. Bridick commented, "I would like to point out the fact that because of the burglar alarm system which is supervised by Mike Macek, and the quick action of Sgt. Norris Horton and Patrolman Charles Bridick, another would be burglar was caught in the act. On Tuesday morning a burglar set off the alarm at Duffin Brothers and our police caught the person inside the building."

"As I have previously indicated to you, this is another incident in which our burglar alarm system and quick response of our police has been beneficial to the city and our residents."

GC board hires custodians, gifted program coordinator

The Granite City Board of Education Tuesday night hired two custodians, named a part-time consultant for gifted students' programs and approved a leave of absence.

Albert Bell, former highway commissioner of Nameoki Township, was selected to begin his duties Monday as a custodian and Donald Lloyd was selected as a custodian starting Oct. 3.

After interviewing several candidates, the board selected Merna Musterman, learning center teacher at Prohart School, as the district's part-time consultant for the gifted program.

She will serve a half-day in her regular duties and a half-day coordinating gifted programs for all the schools.

A leave of absence was granted to Theresa Johnson, an English teacher at Granite City High School North, until Jan. 13, 1978.

The board also decided to contract with the St. Louis Sports Medicine Clinic as athletic injury consultants and to supervise the progress of a student trainer.

Randy Biggerstaff, the former athletic trainer for the district, resigned to accept a post with that St. Louis firm, so Biggerstaff will likely continue his contact with the district under the new contract.

The board also agreed to retain William Cochran as day coordinating gifted programs for all the schools.

The contract with the St. Louis Sports Medicine Clinic will total $800 per year and the clinic will visit both schools daily, and will provide malpractice insurance for the student scholarship trainer.

The board also agreed to seek two candidates to attend the Michigan Athletic Trainer School during the summer of 1978. Graduates will be considered for extra-curricular assignments as athletic trainers after completion of the course and certification. Tuition fees for the trainer school are to be paid by the school district.

Bonds

Ferrolly Corp. The company's lease payments would retire the bond principal and interest.

The Ferrolly firm now operates plants in Chicago, Bloomington, Del., Birmingham, Ala., and St. Louis.

Murphy said the company had been seeking a location for expansion and after inspecting the St. Louis area was attracted to Granite City by a combination of factors that included close proximity to steel supplies and railroad and barge freight facilities.

The bond issues, which is expected to require enactment of a bond sale ordinance later, is authorized under a city ordinance approved several years ago providing that the city may issue bonds to aid in development of industry and business.

In response to a question by Alderman Charles Douglas, Murphy said that the company's present plant in St. Louis now employs about 26 persons and that he expects a similar number would be employed at the Granite City plant.

The firm buys steel from suppliers and processes it to specifications of its customers.

The council, with 13 members present, voted unanimously to suspend the rules to place the resolution on final passage. The vote on final passage also was unanimous.

Jail

scaled-down plans were requested.

The specifications called for alternate bids for both a 76-cell facility and for a 106-cell facility. It was felt the larger jail is needed since the current county jail, housing about 60, is overcrowded and predictions indicated the 76-cell facility would quickly be overcrowded.

Multiple uses for soil survey results

A Madison County soil survey is continuing to progress toward completion.

The U.S. Agriculture Department Soil Conservation Service's survey is scheduled for completion in 1981. Based on a cooperative agreement with the county government, the SCS is preparing maps of the entire county — showing different soils, slope classes and degrees of erosion, as well as water and other land features.

When finished, the Madison County soil survey will be published as a report. It will contain detailed maps, descriptions of soils, and tables showing soil properties, estimated crop yields, and suitability for various potential uses.

SCS officials believe the information will be useful to all land users and land use planners. It is expected to be especially useful to farmers, since the survey will describe many soil properties that affect farm management.

Examples are available: rooting depth, natural drainage, permeability, slope of the land and depth to water table.

Other soil properties to be included are: relative content of sand, silt and clay, presence of toxic salts, acidity, degree of erosion of the surface, and the extent of areas likely to flood.

By knowing the soil types and soil properties on his land, a farmer will be better able to evaluate current developments in agricultural management and how he can best apply them, it is asserted.

Researchers at agricultural experiment stations throughout the state are constantly listing the effect on crop yields of various combinations of fertilizers, tillage methods, water management systems and conservation measures utilized on different soils.

A farmer can expect similar effects on similar soils in his area. Thus, by comparing soils at the experiment stations with those described in the Soil Survey Report, the farmer will be better able to estimate the success of a new practice or combination of practices on his farm.

The report will give estimated average yields for major crops on each soil in the county under a high level of management. This will help in estimating the potential productivity of soils for different crops, and the returns likely with a more expensive management system.

Dale Sherrard, district conservationist, commented this week, "The survey will help the farmer determine how intensively he can use his land without damaging its productivity, and what conservation measures are needed to control erosion on sloping areas."

"It will indicate severely eroded soils and whether they will respond well to reclamation efforts. It will also help in developing safe and effective systems for disposal of animal wastes."

"The survey will help landowners select areas best suited for ponds, pasture, woodland and homesites."

"By comparing the potential productivity of different soils in the county, landowners will be better able to assess the economic value of their properties relative to those in their area, as well as to those in other areas of the state."

"Such a rating of soils, based on their inherent productivity, can serve as an objective method of appraising land throughout the county."

"The soil survey will identify and locate soils that can be classed as prime agricultural farmland. This will be especially useful to land owners and planners in dealing with future trends in land use, and in conserving the most productive farmlands in the county."

Man shot fatally in fight with troopers

A Texas parole violator was shot and fatally wounded by an Illinois State Police sergeant after the man and his brother allegedly attempted to kill a state trooper on Interstate 70 about two miles east of Route 127, near Greenville, Ill., at 4:45 p.m. Monday.

Jacob Denny Foster, 29, Muncie, Ind., died during surgery at St. Elizabeth Hospital here at 9:25 p.m. Monday. His brother, Jimmy Dale Foster, 25, Muncie, is being held in the Bond County Jail, charged with attempted murder.

A state police spokesman said Trooper Ronald Gruner was notified to watch for a possible intoxicated driver and found the described auto stalled at the edge of Interstate 70.

Gruner ordered the two men in the car to get out, and he took their names, noting the driver appeared to be intoxicated. Their names were run through a routine computer check and a dispatcher notified Gruner that Jacob Foster was wanted as a parole violator in Huntsville, Tex.

Gruner then requested a backup squad car, but before it arrived, the two men jumped the Trooper, choking him and taking his service revolver.

Gruner told authorities one man pointed the service revolver at him and tried to fire it several times, but was unfamiliar with the safety catch on the weapon, which was on State Police Sgt. William Pierce of Highland was on his way home from the District 11 post at Maryville when he heard the call for assistance and responded, since he was nearby.

Pierce said that when he arrived on the scene, he saw the two men wrestling with Trooper Gruner. As Pierce got out of his squad car, Jacob Foster allegedly aimed the gun at Pierce and Pierce fired his service revolver.

It is not believed that shot struck Jacob Foster, but he was knocked back, either by the surprise or because Gruner hit his leg. What caused him to move back is under investigation.

The two state officers on the scene said Jacob Foster then allegedly turned back toward Trooper Gruner and tried to fire the gun at him.

Unaware the safety was on,

Sgt. Pierce fired another shot at close range at Jacob Foster to protect Trooper Gruner, and that shot struck Mr. Foster's midsection.

Both troopers then subdued Jimmy Foster and summoned an ambulance.

Jacob Foster was taken to Ullau Memorial Hospital in Greenville where he was given emergency treatment and was transferred to St. Elizabeth Hospital here.

He arrived here at 6:45 p.m. and was taken into surgery, but died on the operating table at 9:25 p.m. Monday.

Authorities noted the fatal bullet appeared to have entered Mr. Foster's left abdomen and exited his right side.

Trooper, Gruner, who sustained minor injuries in the scuffle, was treated and released from Ullau Memorial Hospital.

Four hurt in one-car crash

Four persons suffered injuries when the auto in which they were riding tried to avoid hitting a rabbit during the weekend as they were heading west on the Mitchell-Poag Road, one mile east of Cemetery Road, hit a telephone pole, continued moving and came to rest after striking a second utility pole.

Raymond Kidwell Jr., 19, of 2203 Illinois Ave., driver of the car, struck his face against the steering wheel and suffered a cut to the left upper leg and a cut over the left eye.

Kim Morrison, 17, of 4810 D'Lynn Drive, suffered pain to the lower back and legs and was transferred to Christian North-east Hospital, St. Louis.

Gary Morrison, 15, of 4610 D'Lynn Drive, suffered abrasions to the right shoulder and also was transferred to Christian Northeast.

Mary R. Kutosky, 17, of 4621 D'Lynn Drive, was treated for a cut to the left ankle, and released.

'People Power' suggested to combat insurance redlining

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer
"People power" is one way residents of any area can fight "redlining" by insurance companies and mortgage lenders, 35 persons attending a seminar on redlining were told Tuesday evening.

The seminar was hosted by the Granite City Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society, Inc., and was presented by the Housing Task Force of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

Louise Reeves, a member of the Housing Task Force, explained that redlining is the practice of denying insurance or housing money to certain areas because they are considered poor insurance risks. The name was derived from companies which were said to draw a red line around an area on a map and say that area would not be considered for insurance.

Although some insurance professionals here admit privately that redlining on home insurance does exist in the Quad-City area, Dave Killeen, a member of the Gateway staff, noted at the meeting that redlining is illegal in Illinois under a bill signed Friday by Gov. James Thompson.

One insurance expert here later told the Press-Record that homeowner's insurance in the Quad-City area is undergoing a crisis which may be linked with redlining. He said two insurance companies recently have stopped serving this area, another company has reduced from five local agents to one, and another company is said to be drastically cutting back on its homeowner's insurance.

Gerald Dancy of the Gateway staff said insurance companies use numerous reasons for denying, cancelling or refusing to renew homeowner's insurance policies, including the age of the home (over 25 years), its location (high crime and other reasons), condition of neighboring homes, race and others.

He outlined alternatives for homeowners whose insurance is cancelled or not renewed. The prime alternative, for those who are able to get it, is a new homeowner's policy with another company. "Most companies refuse to write this," he stated.

If more than one homeowner's policy is offered, the homeowner should study the rates and coverages before selecting one, he added.

For those unable to get a homeowner's policy, insurance is available against theft and burglary under the federal crime insurance program of 1971, and against fire and natural disaster under the Fair Plan.

One way of fighting insurance redlining is to file a complaint with the Illinois Department of Insurance in Springfield, "which will follow that complaint through to the very end," Dancy said.

Another way of fighting redlining was explained by Fern Watts, a volunteer member of the Housing Task Force, who said "people power" could be an effective way for persons to obtain insurance by groups.

Lending institutions tend to redline the area for home improvement loans and the deteriorating cycle continues, unless something is done to change it.

She explained the organization of a group including the presidents of various service clubs, card clubs, sewing circles, the Chamber of Commerce and other groups.

The club presidents then would form an executive board which would study ways of improving communications with insurance companies, lending institutions and governmental organizations interested in improving the quality of areas and neighborhoods.

A "hotline" could be organized where each executive board member can call in club members and those members each would call five others, until important news is spread among many persons.

The group concept can be used in preparing areas to attempt to obtain group insurance, seeking federal and state funds available to improve areas, and keeping up on the latest legislation having an influence on housing.

"Where you, as a homeowner, may not be able to attract much attention from the insurance firms, a group of about 100 families or more seeking insurance will draw quite a bit of attention," that's the "people power," Fern Watts said.

Ed Foley, executive director of the Madison County Housing Authority and a member of the Housing Task Force, said the concept of homeowners banding together to fight redlining is untried, but the group concept has had some success with housing authorities.

He noted the county housing authority purchases 13 different types of insurance costing about $60,000 per year. Housing authorities everywhere were experiencing insurance premium increases of 300 to 400 percent per year, and some found increases as high as 1,000 percent.

In an effort to fight rising insurance premiums, 40 housing authorities, including the county and Granite City authorities, pooled their resources to seek an overall insurance policy.

He displayed two thick volumes of information on the 40 housing authorities which was required before insurance companies would bid on the package, noting the volumes gave all important insurance information on $280 million worth of real estate, 157 families, 588 employees, state bonds and other required information. They advertised nationally for insurance bids and had good response from insurance companies. The two-volume set of information on the housing authorities was sold to insurance companies for $175 per set, even though they cost only $100 per set to prepare. "We felt they wanted to insure us and make a profit, we had the right to make a profit on all our work," Foley stated.

"Then we found that, due to the insurance lobbyists, there is an Illinois law which prohibits one master policy in this instance. Each authority had to have a separate policy, but we could still use a group approach," he said.

The bids were opened Aug. 8 and will be presented to the state housing authority next week for consideration. "They are very complicated and complex bids, but it appears at this time that we will save $100,000 this year in insurance premiums and we are going to put a more attractive package together for better rates next year," Foley noted.

He said the 40 housing authorities involved still will pay more than $1 million in insurance premiums this year. "It is going to be difficult to put neighborhoods together in this way, but it may be one way to get reasonable rates from insurance companies and I will be among the first to join, if someone gets such a group going."

Fern Watts suggested the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society, Inc., which already has organized 50 families interested in neighborhood improvement, may be a nucleus from which such a group could be formed.

Dave Killeen of the Gateway Council staff, noted lending institutions are required under the Home Mortgage Disclosure Act of 1975 to keep records showing how much money they have loaned in each census tract for mortgages and home improvements.

"This act has no teeth at this point, but it can provide important information for groups wanting to determine if there has been redlining of mortgage money and home improvement loans in specific areas," Killeen said.

South going for second win

Warriors and grid Lancers battle here tomorrow night

Granite City South football coach Stan Wojcik and his grid Warriors will be going after their second win in a row — and of the season — tomorrow night. South hosts Belleville East in an 8 p.m. contest. Last season, East beat the Warriors 14-8, also in the third game of the season.

Last week South pulled off a 13-7 win over O'Fallon on the road and hopes to continue that success in its second home game of the year. In their first home contest, the Warriors were beaten by Jefferson City, Mo., 41-0.

Belleville East meanwhile, is winless in two starts. In the first game of the year, the Lancers lost the Springfield Southeast, 8-0. Last Friday, they were turned back by cross-town foe Belleville Althoff 12-7.

The Lancers have had the fumbles in their first two games.

In the first contest, they dominated the game statistically except on the scoreboard. In fact, Springfield Southeast scored when a player scooped up a Lancer fumble and ran for a touchdown.

"Our lack of ball control is disappointing," said Lancer head coach Dean Renn. "You can't give up the ball time after time and expect to win."

Belleville East will be led by running back Doug Harris. He rushed for 1,010 yards last season to finish third in the Southwestern Conference as a junior.

The Warriors will counter with their own tough running back, Cliff Moran. Last week against O'Fallon, he ran the ball 34 times for 136 yards and two touchdowns.

On defense, the Lancers have an outstanding group of linebackers. They are Craig Sifferth (196 pounds), Mark Reeder (198) and Bob Bauer (150).

Bauer could be too small for a linebacker in some eyes . . . but not to Renn. "He can get to the football and he'll smack you when he gets there."

"If he ever lives up to his potential, he's going to be great," Renn said of Reeder, a junior who may be the fastest player on the team.

South will have a defense of its own tomorrow night. Last week against O'Fallon the Warriors "bent-but-never-broke." They allowed 151 yards on the ground and 48 yards passing, but held together and played tough when the situation became critical.

"I don't care how the opposition moves the ball between the 20s," said Warrior Coach Wojcik, "as long as they stop at the 20."

Inexperience in some of the crucial positions could be one of the Lancers' problems. Quarterback Jeff Lanter is gifted, but lacking in game-time exposure.

But Coach Renn's biggest inexperience spot is his defensive secondary. There is only one returnee back there . . . George Steele. He's a foot-one, 161-pound senior safety.

One thing that might be working in the Warriors' favor is that Belleville East has two straight games against tough competition in the Southwest Conference the next two weeks after tomorrow's game.

Not that South needs any extra help, but the Lancers could be looking past the Warrior to next week's game against Belleville West and the week after against East, St. Louis.

On defense, the Lancers will throw a pro-style 4-3-4 at the Warriors in an effort to halt the run. Renn feels that is the "name of the game," in high school football.

"Over the years, our defense hasn't been especially good at stopping anything, but it's probably better against the run," said Renn.

"You have to stop the running game in high school to win." It could well be that, after tomorrow's game against South, the Lancers from Belleville East might be wondering what else they have to do to win a game.

Press-Record

A 'must' game for North?

Steelers and Oilers have a little bouncing back to do

Trying to bounce back from a surprising loss (21-20) to Collinsville last week, Granite City North will play its second game in a row on the road tomorrow night at Wood River. Kickoff time is set for 7:30.

The Oilers of Wood River have some bouncing back of their own to do.

Last week, they lost to Bethalto 32-22 after trouncing Breese Mater Dei in their first game of the season, 26-7.

Obviously, putting points on the board has not been a problem for the Oilers . . . in either game.

Last week, for instance, they had touchdowns out of senior quarterback Jeff Calvin (a one-yard plunge), John White, a 145-pound senior halfback (on a three-yard run) and David Armstrong, a 165-pound junior halfback (on a 10-yard pass interception).

But the Steelers of coach Tom Wyrostek aren't having too much trouble getting points, either.

They shut out Cahokia in their first game, 20-0, and put another 20 points on the scoreboard last Friday at Collinsville, but turned an about-face on the defensive end and allowed the Kahoks to put 21 up on the board.

Wood River has a size problem going against it this season.

"Our major problems are a lack of people and size," said Wood River head football coach Carl Clift Moran. "Maybe everyone else has these problems, too, but I doubt it."

The Oilers have only 27 varsity players, fewer than Crawford had hoped for. Of those, 17 are returning lettermen, he said that number is decreasing.

"Most of those kids played on the specialty teams and didn't see much actual game time," he said.

Another problem that Crawford has to deal with is that of a senior quarterback without ANY undergraduate exposure.

But Calvin has obviously been able to fill the bill there . . . it's in the defense that the problems lie.

For North Coach Tom Wyrostek, the problem, he feels, is in execution. In the Collinsville loss, the Steelers had a chance to take the lead with a two-point conversion.

They didn't.

Workhorse Steeler runningback Mike Sherman was swarmed by a host of Kahoks to snuff out the threat.

But Wyrostek isn't blaming anyone in particular. "It's not that the blocking wasn't there," he said. "It was. We just didn't execute the play properly."

"We have to improve," he added. "We can't get away with not executing on the fundamentals."

The Oilers may have revenge on their minds tomorrow night, and the Steelers may want to continue where they left off last season.

Last year, North demolished Wood River, 49-14. But it is now a new season.

Gone from that North team are quarterback Greg Corey and running back Fred Clay.

But still here are new QB, Doug Rains, and the explosive running backs for the Steelers, Sherman and Bruce Wright.

Last week, the Kahoks — even though coach Lloyd Dunn states the opposite — seemed to key on Sherman and "limited" him to 76 yards. But Wright was there to take up the slack. He carried the ball 20 times for 106 yards and one touchdown.

Wood River's Armstrong also had a big night last Friday. He ran the pigskin 18 times for 99 yards.

Another problem that may have hurt the Oilers this season is the loss of two starters from last year. Fullback Steve Ruyle and safety Darel Downer have opted for other interests this time around. Ruyle has a job and Downer wants to devote 100 per cent of his concentration on basketball.

Crawford said Ruyle was a better-than-average fullback and said that Downer was a good safety . . . that's on defense, you know.

The Steelers' probably will have to win all of the "bird" of their games if they are going to make it into the post-season playoffs. Next week, they have a game with Roxana . . . but the rest of their season begins tomorrow at Wood River.

Flag football night schedule starts tonight

The Granite City Park District will open its night flag football season with three games at West Granite Park tonight, with the first game beginning at 8 o'clock. Day games got under way last Saturday at Wilson Park.

This year's program consists of six teams made up of boys aged 10 and 11.

The six teams competing in this year's program are: Victory Sporting Goods Vikings, Mitchell Athletic Club Packers, Black Sheep, Jennison-Wright Falcons, Granite City Steel Credit Union and the Officer Friendly Cougars.

Games are played on Saturday mornings at Wilson Park and on several Thursday evenings throughout the season at West Granite Park.

Women's soccer starting Sunday

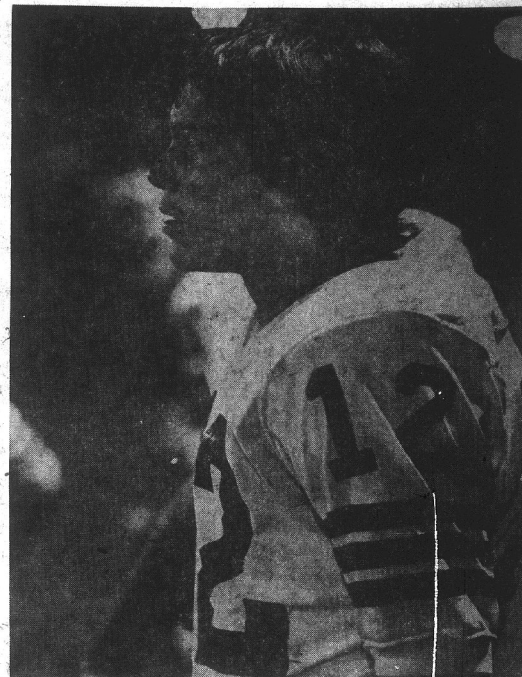

The Granite City Park District will begin its 1977 women's soccer program on Sunday, Sept. 25, beginning at 1:30 p.m. at Wilson Park.

The teams in this year's program are Winfield Construction, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1800, Blue Angels, Kamadulski Katz and Lion's Mace.

Games will be played on Sunday afternoons beginning at 1:30 at Wilson Park and on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings beginning at 6:30 at West Granite Park.

But Jakich feels that the Trojan defense could well be up to the task. "I'm really proud of our defense," he said.

ENGROSSED In the action Friday night is Steeler defensive halfback and backup quarterback Tim Dudley. He is a 6-foot sophomore. North lost a thriller to Collinsville, 21-20.

Toughest test for Madison

Trojans host tough Rosary team tomorrow

"No doubt about it, this will be a real test for our guys."

Those are the words of Madison football coach Nick Jakich concerning his Trojans' game tomorrow night at home against Rosary Catholic High School from St. Louis.

Kickoff time is set for 7:30 p.m.

A real test? Haven't the Trojans already proven that they can back it? After all, they are the only undefeated team in the Quad-Cities after two weeks of the season by virtue of their wins of 28-18 over St. Genevieve of Valle, Mo., in the season opener and 13-12 last week over a tough Warrenton, Mo., team on the road.

Yes, they have. But the Rosary gridders may be another story. "They're always tough," said Jakich. "Last week, they beat Troy 28-0."

Obviously, by putting up 28 points on the board last week and shutting out its opponent, Rosary is a team to be reckoned with.

But Jakich feels that the Trojan defense could well be up to the task. "I'm really proud of our defense," he said.

"They hang together out there, and seldom break when the going gets tough."

The going could get a little tougher tomorrow. With an explosive Rosary offense, the Madison defense should be put to its toughest test of the year.

One thing that could spell trouble for Madison is the fact that many—if not most—of the players have to go both ways . . . that is, play both offensive and defensive positions.

How does that affect the Trojans?

"They get tired out there," Jakich said. "That's one of the reasons I'm so happy with their play. They have overcome a lot of adversity thus far."

On the Trojan offense, there has been a "pleasant surprise" of sorts. Joe Peichocinski, the area's leading passer as a junior a year ago, isn't the leading passer this far this season. But Jakich isn't worried. In fact, he's probably delighted.

The reason Peichocinski isn't leading passer is that he hasn't had to throw. His running backs have done such a good job in grinding out yardage and putting points on the scoreboard.

Through the first two games of the season, Trojan running backs Earnest Davenport, James Heard and Ronald Morris have run rampant against the opposition.

Heard has 248 yards including 184 against St. Genevieve in the first game.

Davenport has contributed with good yardage and two touchdowns, one in each game.

Morris also has two touchdowns. He could well have had four at this point, but he had two TD's called back because of infractions last week against Warrenton. But he did manage to rack up 69 yards last Friday.

Peichocinski isn't having a bad season thus far, either. He has scored one touchdown and thrown for another, and has been successful on three out of five extra point kick attempts.

The Trojans could well have to muster up all of their tricks and use them against Rosary tomorrow night.

According to Jakich, the players are sky-high about being 2-0 and now that they know what it feels like, they're kind of hungry for some more victories.

If it feels good to be 2-0, it must feel even better to be 3-0.

On Monday, South lost to Alton at Rock Springs Golf Course in Alton, 154-173. Low men for the Warriors were Ben Brown and Herman Schroeder with 42's. They were followed by Joel King with a 43, and Bob Persharian with a 48.

On Tuesday, South hosted Edwardsville at Arlington Golf Course. The final score of that match was Edwardsville 156, South 188.

Brown once again was the low man for the Warrior golfers with a 40. Greg Mulch fired a 42, Kevin Romine a 43 and Bo Persharian a 48.

Meanwhile, North hosted Collinsville Tuesday on the back-nine at Arlington. The Steelers golfers came out on top, 164-183.

George Bartz was the match medalist with a 38, followed by teammate Dan Harper with a 41, Scott Robertson 42 and Russ Chappell 43. The lowest man for Collinsville was Mike Orlich, who shot a 44.

Yesterday, the Steelers won a triangular meet at Jerseyville with Carlinville and Jerseyville. The scores were North 167, Carlinville 183 and Jerseyville 188.

Dan Harper was the medalist, with a score of 40. Mike Cella had a 41, Chris Andrews 43, George Bartz 45 and Brett Smith 43. Only two of the 43 scores were counted.

The medalist for Carlinville shot a 44 and the low-man for Jerseyville shot a 42.

Is LOW PRICE the MAIN MEASURE OF A PRESCRIPTION SERVICE?

It's important, of course, but so is the other word up there... service. It means a pharmacist interested in you; it means convenient hours; compounding, if necessary; complete reports (including line quality generics); so you get your prescription promptly. All that... plus savings... is what makes your Walgreen Pharmacist so proud to welcome you!

Dental care expansion is being urged

Forty recommendations for improved dental care delivery were disclosed in a preliminary report this week by the Illinois Oral Health Care Forum. The forum, co-sponsored by the Illinois State Dental Society and the American Dental Association, was attended by 150 consumer advocates, legislators, health planners and members of the dental profession. It was held in mid-September at the University of Illinois College of Dentistry, Chicago.

The forum urged new approaches in the areas of cost, status, access, and quality of dental care in the state of Illinois.

The forum's recommendations will now be disseminated to similar local-level groups through a series of district meetings scheduled Nov. 1-15 in Rockford, Joliet, Peoria, Jacksonville, Champaign, Mt. Vernon and Chicago. Among the principal recommendations were:

1. Provide tax credits on dental bills for low-income consumers who do not qualify for welfare assistance.
2. Institute deferred payment plans by dentists for their financially encumbered patients.
3. Develop an organized education program to inform the public on the importance of good nutrition and preventive care.
4. Investigate emergency dental care facilities as in local hospital emergency rooms through local dental societies.
5. Increase available hours to accommodate people on different employment shifts.
6. Provide financial incentives for dentists to locate in rural or dentally underserved areas.
7. Place more emphasis on peer review and continuing education programs for dentists.

On services to the poor, one speaker, Roger T. Rydstrom D.D.S., of Elmhurst, noted problems in the Medicaid system. In 1968, an estimated 85 percent of Illinois dentists accepted public aid patients, he said. The figure has dwindled to 20 percent today.

The forum suggested raising consumer group awareness of the welfare situation and considering lobbying to re-evaluate the system. A goal includes eliminating the "paperwork crisis" which is said to force many practitioners to drop out of welfare programs altogether.

The Illinois Oral Health Care Forum, a pilot effort, was monitored by representatives from ten other states.

"Our goal," explained Carl Muller, D.D.S., of Villa Park, general chairman of the forum, "is to improve oral health and to make dental care more accessible to all Illinois citizens, regardless of economic or geographic barriers."

Illinois Bar will act on advertising rules

The Illinois State Bar Association has drafted a set of revised rules governing advertising by lawyers. The 141-member ISBA Assembly will meet at 10 a.m. Saturday in Chicago to decide whether to approve the rules.

The proposed rules, which must be adopted by the Illinois Supreme Court to be binding on Illinois lawyers, would permit attorney advertising in print media as long as the ads were not deceptive.

Advertising in other media, including radio and television, would not be permitted until the Supreme Court determines that use of such media would "materially facilitate the process of informed selection of lawyers by potential consumers of legal services."

Carole K. Bellows of Chicago, president of the Illinois State Bar Association, termed the proposal "a reasonable response to the need for informing the public about the availability of legal services."

The ISBA president warned that "restrictions on lawyer ads are necessary because the nature of legal services makes some forms of advertising, particularly concerning fees, inherently misleading."

She cited ads for "uncontested divorces" in which she believes the lawyer's description of such a service would be far different from the client's expectations.

The draft rules define a "deceptive statement" as one that:

1. Uses showmanship, puffery, self-laudation of hucksterism, including use of slogans, jingles or garish or sensational language or format.
2. Contains a statement about the quality of services provided that gives the impression that a lawyer is a specialist in or concentrates in or limits practice to a particular field of law, except as otherwise permitted.
3. Misleads the public about the actual cost of legal services.
4. Is intended or is likely to create an unjustified expectation.

The proposed rules differ from advertising guidelines recently adopted by the American Bar Association. Although ABA guidelines list specific information, such as name, date and place of birth, that would be appropriate to include in ads, the ISBA proposal is broader, permitting any information that is not deceptive.

Under the ISBA proposal, an Illinois lawyer would be able to advertise the following information about fees:

1. The fee for an initial consultation.
2. The fixed fee or contingent fee for specific legal services.
3. The range of fees for specific legal services, provided there is reasonable disclosure of all relevant variables.
4. Statement of hourly rates.
5. Statement about the availability of credit arrangements.

Saturday's meeting of the Assembly of the Illinois State Bar Association is open to the public. The meeting will be held at the Chicago Marriott Hotel, 8535 West Higgins Road (O'Hare area).

Experimental course slated

An experimental economic history course entitled "The Age of Uncertainty" will be offered this fall through the Open University at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The Open University Project provides a means by which students who for whatever reason cannot attend conventional classes may earn regular college credit.

The course is based on the John Kenneth Galbraith television series about development of modern economic thought. An integral part of the course will be that students watch the Galbraith films, to be aired on channel 9 at 12 noon beginning this Saturday.

Galbraith — an economist, Harvard professor emeritus, author and former U.S. Ambassador to India — will examine the ideas of Adam Smith, Ricardo, Malthus, Marx, Spencer, Veblen, Lenin and Keynes in historical context.

Then, in light of this background, he will address himself to such current concerns as the state of American cities, multinational corporations, the arms race and the global issue of food in relation to population.

Beginning Monday, Sept. 26, there will be two class sessions per week, 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. on Mondays and Thursdays. As with regular Open University courses, the student attends whichever session is more convenient that week.

Assignments will be mailed to the student, who must complete and return them within a given deadline. There will be proctored, on-campus midterm and final examination. The four-credit-hour elective course will be taught by Wayne D. St. Saenger, assistant professor of historical studies.

All students must be admitted to the university by regular procedure before Sept. 30. The Open University Project telephone is 692-2125.

2 small boys admit starting fire in house

Two boys, ages 9 and 10, have admitted starting a fire in the basement of a vacant house at 2116 Delmar Ave., at 3:35 p.m. Sunday.

The house is owned by Sobol Realty. A neighbor reported two small boys came to her carrying a partially burned paper bag and asked her if she had some paper. Minutes later, she saw the boys come from the vacant house and saw smoke coming out.

She called the fire department which extinguished the blaze. They noted the fire was set in an old chair in the basement and spread to other parts of the basement.

Based upon a description given by the neighbor, two boys were picked up and allegedly admitted starting the fire.

NO, THEY AREN'T THIS FAT. It's not the weight of state representatives but their number that bothers a newly-formed Committee for Legislative Reform. "What is his fat costing you?" the committee asked during the weekend in launching a petition drive to reduce each of the 59 Illinois legislative districts from three to two House members. This would cut the total from 159 to 118. That's a taxpayer underneath the overfed cartoon character.

Mississippi River barge tax studied by southern counties

(American Waterways Operators)

P.R. Smith, a top farm official in the Carter administration, said last week in Des Moines his office will look into a reported plan by Louisiana parishes (counties) to impose a tax or surcharge on Mississippi River barges. Smith, a Georgia cotton farmer, is a special assistant to the U.S. secretary of agriculture and a long-time confidential adviser to President Carter on farm matters.

He was in Des Moines to speak at the annual meeting of the Iowa Grain and Feed Association. During a question and answer session, a representative of the St. Louis Grain Co., St. Louis, asked Smith if he was aware that a surtax is being considered on river barges by Louisiana parishes.

The grain company representative told Smith that one tax being considered was a charge of $10 a barge at Myrtle Grove, La. He also said some of the Louisiana parishes are considering a per-bushel tax on river grain and soybean shipments.

"I am concerned about this taxation," the grain official said. "This represents an innovation, and we fear that the costs of such river barge taxes will be deferred on back to the farmer and affect the price he gets for his grain."

An official of Cargill, Inc., who also appeared on the program with Smith, said his firm would "fight" the imposition of such a tax on Mississippi River barges. "This (the river barge tax) also appears to me to be illegal," he said.

Smith promised that his office in the U.S. Department of Agriculture would look into the matter. One official said no such river tax is levied currently, and that the waters of the Mississippi River "belong to all of the states."

Smith also told the audience that the Carter administration is committed to promoting grain exports. "There is a firm commitment by the Carter-Mondale administration to overseas sales," he said. "It recognizes that more depends on what kind of crop they have in Russia than on the kind of crop they have in Kansas as far as economic importance today. We plan vigorous programs to export grain."

Helped 415. "For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities."

Without a doubt this is one of the most precious statements in the Bible. Christ who is our high priest, mediator between man and God, can be touched with the feeling of our infirmities.

Have you ever been touched by the need of others? Of course you have. Nearly everyone has. The success of charitable organizations in America is due to this single fact, we want to help someone who is in need.

Now consider this: Christ wants to help YOU in your problems! He sees you are struggling, staggering, faltering and He is touched! He feels what you feel!

We must ask for help in time of need. If you ask, you will receive.

Won't you let him help you? Today.

Special registration for Oct. 4 city referendum

Special voter registration centers will enroll new voters qualified to cast ballots in the Tuesday, Oct. 4, Granite City referendum on the question as to whether the office of city street superintendent shall be elective or appointive.

The registration periods, the first of which will be conducted tomorrow, are planned by County Clerk Evelyn Bowles as a convenience to persons who are qualified to vote in the city referendum but who are yet unregistered. New voters otherwise would be required to go to Edwardsville to register for the Oct. 4 balloting.

Miss Bowles said registration centers will be open Friday at the city clerk's office in the City Hall here from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and in the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank Friday from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Deputy registrars will be assigned to the centers to accept new registrations. Changes in records of present voters, such as change of address, also will be accepted.

The second series of registration periods will be held Friday, Sept. 30, at the City Hall here from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and at the First Granite City National Bank from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m.

After that, voters who still need to register to vote Oct. 4 will be required to register at the county clerk's office in Edwardsville. Because the election is a referendum vote there is no registration deadline, Miss Bowles said. Qualified voters may register through Oct. 3 to vote in the Oct. 4 election.

The Oct. 4 balloting was authorized by the City Council in response to petitions bearing 8,400 signatures. The petitioners sought the election after a majority of the council approved an ordinance last April providing that the office of city street superintendent shall be appointive after the expiration of the present term in April 1979.

Charge 3 after melee; squad car is damaged

Three Granite City men were charged after an alleged disturbance at West Pontoon Road and Briarcliff Drive at 3 a.m. Tuesday.

Police said they stopped a pickup truck which had only one headlight and alleged seeing an open quart of beer and two cans of beer on the floorboard.

Two passengers in the truck, Harvey E. Broyles, 24, of 1942 Adams St., and Billy L. Parker, 21, of Rural Route Two, Box 791, Granite City, got out of the truck and became loud and abusive, police alleged.

They were placed in one squad car and the driver, James D. Howell, 22, of 2317 Miracle Ave., was placed in another squad car. It was alleged Broyles and Parker began beating and kicking on the windows and shield inside one squad car, cursing and yelling.

Both police cars started toward the Granite City Police Department with Broyles and Parker in the front car. Near Coolidge Junior High School, the left rear window was kicked out of the front auto and broken glass went all over the back of the car, police said.

As the squad cars stopped, Parker allegedly reached through the broken window to the door latch, opened the left rear door of the front car and tried to flee. Officers stopped him at the rear of the auto and reported force had to be used to subdue and handcuff him.

During that scuffle, Broyles allegedly jumped out of the car and ran across Namecki Road into the parking lot of Bellemore Village Shopping Center. Two officers chased him on foot and alleged that Broyles turned to face officers and challenged them to a fight. Force was used to subdue him, it was reported. Broyles and Parker were

Seminar on traffic flow

Traffic flow and its impact on fuel consumption are priority issues for East-West Gateway's Citizens Transportation Task Force. In an attempt to gauge citizen interest in improving area traffic flow, the Task Force in June requested locations of traffic congestion and the causes, and the response has prompted it to sponsor a "seminar on traffic flow."

Purpose of this informal seminar Wednesday, Sept. 28, will be to hear and address citizen comments on the location of various types of traffic stoppers or bottlenecks in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Area highway and traffic officials and others involved with local traffic have been invited to participate.

The Task Force is asking that all interested citizens attend the seminar, which will be held Sept. 28 from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the Health Systems Agency board room, 15th floor, 915 Olive St., St. Louis.

Joni Jones becomes Mrs. David Fraley

Miss Joni Lynne Jones became the bride of David Warren Fraley in a double ring ceremony at Good Shepherd United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Eugene Maritt officiated at the 7 o'clock evening service on Aug. 19.

Miss Lisa Grothius, organist, accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Carol McCoy, who sang several wedding songs.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Jones, 5237 Lakeview Drive. The bridegroom is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fraley.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church hall and later the couple departed on a wedding trip to Florida. They are now at home in Granite City.

The rehearsal dinner party was hosted by Mrs. Lynn North and Mrs. Diane Fraley at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fraley, grandparents of the bride.

The former Miss Jones chose an A-line gown made with a chapel train. The Empire bodice had a high neckline, edged with Venice lace, and three ruffled tiers of lace over the shoulders created a capelet effect.

Venise lace was repeated on the train and floor motifs of lace graced the fingertip veil of illusion. On her hair, she wore a Juliet cap of lace embellished with teardrop-shaped pearls. She carried a cascade of white carnations, interlaced with variegated greenery and enhanced with sonia peach roses.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Sherry Monroe, matron of honor, and Mrs. Teresa Price, Miss Coral Atkinson and Miss Shelly Hurt, bridesmaids.

They wore princess style gowns in blue, green, yellow, and coral with matching floral capelets. Each held a colonial bouquet of white baby breath and carnations, tinted in pastel shades to coordinate with her dress.

Davis Eads served as best man and the groomsmen were Dennis Jones, brother of the bride, John Monroe and Robert Kurilla. Serving as ushers were Stephen Fraley, the groom's brother, and John North, his brother-in-law.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Jones selected a long gown of floral print chiffon in French blue made with bishop sleeves.

Two sonia peach roses were removed from the bridal bouquet and presented to the mother.

Mrs. Fraley was graduated from Granite City High School South and presently is attending Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Her husband, also a South High graduate, attends SIUE and is employed by Granite City in the city inspection department.

MARRIED. Mr. and Mrs. David Warren Fraley, who were married at the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church. The bride is the former Joni Lynne Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Jones, 5237 Lakeview Drive.

New Hope past matrons meet

Mrs. Carol Hildebrand and Mrs. Louise Cook were hostesses to the Past Matrons Club of New Hope Chapter 402, Order of Eastern Star, Tuesday evening at Petri's Cafe.

Mrs. Gertrude Lowery and Mrs. Weiss agreed to serve as hostesses to the group in October.

Others present were Aileen George, Lou Anderson, Charlotte Rapp, Ann Mueller and Sara Stephens.

Mrs. Kinder is A to Z hostess

Rhonda Kaye Whitson, Gary Hampton are wed

In a late afternoon ceremony at 5 o'clock at Community Heights Assembly of God Church, Miss Rhonda Kaye Whitson and Gary Lee Hampton exchanged their wedding vows on Aug. 20 before the Rev. Jeff Smith. The couple is now at home at 1821 Maple St.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kelleher, 1961 Spruce St. Her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hampton, reside in Doe Run, Mo.

Miss Susan Lewis served as maid of honor and the flower girl, Carrie Smith, a cousin of the bridegroom, walked with the ringbearer, Christopher Hampton, the groom's brother.

The former Miss Whitson selected a full-length gown of white antique satin overlaid with delicate lace. The bodice, re-embroidered with pearl sequins, was fashioned with brief sleeves.

Her veil of pure silk illusion swept downward to the hemline of her gown, and she held a cascade of blue and white carnations, intermingled with baby breath.

The honor attendant chose a long gown covered with lace and patterned with tiny blue roses. The sleeves were fitted to the wrist and she carried a colonial bouquet of blue and white carnations.

Carrying a basket of rose petals, the flower girl wore a long pink and white dress with dainty flowers encircling the waistband.

Keith Swiecicki served as best man and the ushers were Gerald Garrett, brother of the bridegroom, and Tom Hampton, the groom's brother.

A reception for family and friends was held at the church immediately following the ceremony.

The bride is a senior at Granite City High School and is employed at Kentucky Fried Chicken. Her husband attended schools in Farmington, Mo., and works at Reilly Tar and Chemical Corp.

MR. AND MRS. JERRY MERCER, whose marriage was solemnized at First Assembly of God Church. The bride is the former Miss Cynthia White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit White, 2400 Waterman Ave.

Mercer-White wedding at 1st Assembly of God

First Assembly of God Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Cynthia White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit White, 2400 Waterman Ave., and Jerry Mercer, son of Mrs. Faye Mercer, 2109 Jackson Road, and the late Ray Mercer.

The Rev. Randol Mercer, an uncle of the bridegroom, officiated at the Sept. 5 ceremony at 6:30 in the evening, before an altar decorated with seven-branch candelabra holding tall burning tapers.

The center aisle of the sanctuary was carpeted in white and illuminated with standard candelabra, encircled with greenery and affixed with white candles.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white tulle with organza over tulle, styled with a molded bodice of Venice lace and full bishop sleeves.

The full skirt was trimmed in Venice lace and flowed gracefully into a cathedral train. Camellia headpiece secured her double veil of illusion, edged in lace, and she carried a cascade of white roses, tipped in blue, blue baby breath, stephanotis and cymbidium orchids, trailing long blue satin streamers.

Miss Mary Winfield was the maid of honor and Tami Terrell, Amy Sheriff and Lori Adams were the bridesmaids.

All were dressed alike in long white frocks, the fabric detailed with tiny clusters of blue flowers. The lace covered bodices were fashioned with U-shaped necklines and long lace sleeves were gathered into deep cuffs. A cummerbund effect at the waist and a deep lace train falling to the hemline from a wide band of lace enhanced their dresses.

In their hair they wore white daisies and blue baby breath, and each held a white tulle basket filled with white daisies, blue baby breath, and small pompons in blue, with pale blue and white streamers.

Jayme Mercer, the flower girl on a seersucker of the groom, was in a pale blue frock with a full skirt and tiny puff sleeves, edged in lace. She held a small white basket of daisies, baby breath and pompons.

The bridegroom chose his brother, Terry Mercer, as best man. Groomsmen were Doug Purkey, Mike Weber and Duane Smallie, the groom's cousin.

The ushers were Jeff White, brother of the bride, and Mike Mercer, a cousin to the groom. The ringbearer was Robbie Terrell.

Friends and family members greeted the newlyweds at a reception at the American Legion Hall.

Following a wedding trip to French Lick, Ind., the couple is now residing in Granite City.

The bride was graduated this year from Granite City High School North and is employed as secretary at First National Bank of St. Louis.

Her husband, a 1976 graduate of Granite City High School, is employed at A. O. Smith Corp.

Paint

I thought that was what we needed to do," Portell said.

City Engineer Monroe Brewer said, however, that at the time the city wanted to buy a paint-stripping machine with which to mark city streets, the state would not provide funds outright for purchase of the machine, but agreed to reimburse the city for paint purchases in an amount that, over a period of time, would have paid for the machine.

In response to a question by an alderman, Brewer said his office had not received from the street department any records pertaining to the lineal footage of street striping, the amount of paint used or other data.

Brewer said to qualify for the reimbursements, paint used in city street work would need to be bought through the state's bidding procedure in the same way that other street projects must clear through the state highway department. In addition, he noted, the proper forms containing data required by the state for the reimbursements would need to be filed regularly.

Schuler told the council: "If the city has lost $13,000 for whatever reason, it has to be corrected."

"We've just given the people a big tax increase and I can't imagine that the taxpayers will stand for any waste of money." As a result, the mayor said, no more paint should be bought without bidding.

"I do not intend to sign any more checks for paint purchases unless the paint is bought on bids," he said.

The council approved a motion to refer the matter to the Finance Committee for investigation and a further report.

Stanley Hargrove, 13, of 1902 Kirkpatrick Homes, was beaten during a disturbance near his home and was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital this week for a cut to his head. He was released after treatment.

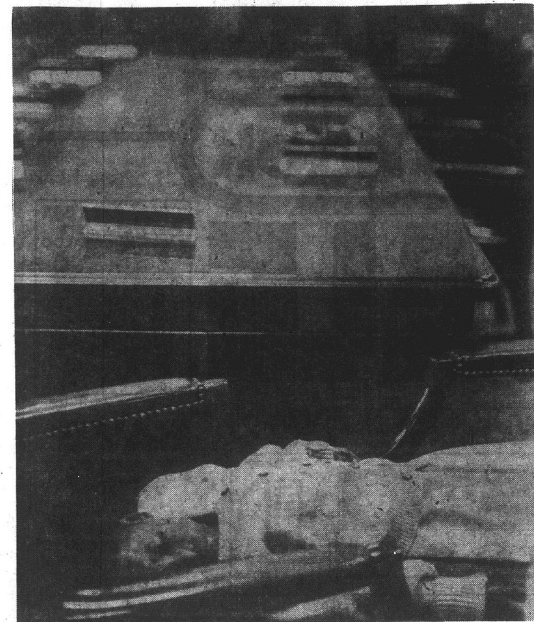

Hargrove told police the incident was not related to a disturbance at the same time in Kirkpatrick Homes where about seven youths, ages 14 to 18, beat Rusty Miller, 18, of Kirkpatrick Homes, in the housing project and cut him with a razor.

Miller was admitted to the hospital with razor cuts to both thumbs, forehead and injuries to his right knee and right ribs. Miller does not live at 2103 Kirkpatrick Homes, as previously reported.

FUTURE IS BRIGHTER for the Wayne Manson family pictured in their automobile Monday afternoon. The Manson family, due to a fire which drove them from their home Sept. 2, have had to use the car as their home for part of the past three weeks since the fire. The couple has three children, Felicia, 7, Travan, 6, and Garnetta, 3.

Agencies find lodging for five unable to locate place to stay

By PAT FOLEY

Press-Record Staff Writer
Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Manson and their three children, Felicia, 7, Travan, 6, and Garnetta, 3, have been trying to find a place to live since Sept. 2 fire which drove them from their Venice home at 1211 Logan Ave.

That may not seem so unusual as fire victims go, but this family has had to make their home for part of the past three weeks in their auto.

Through the red tape of numerous private and governmental agencies, the Manson family has survived and the prospect of a home is in sight.

With immediate emergency help being given by the Tri-Cities chapter of the American Red Cross and other aid by the Venice Township office, the Mansons have finally gotten some response to their pleas for housing.

Through the efforts of a few concerned citizens and Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice, the family has applied for a rent subsidy which is administered by the Madison County Housing Authority.

According to the Authority's director, Edward Foley, there are no provisions for emergency housing in the county, but through the rent subsidy program the Mansons have a real chance at getting a place to live.

But what about the last three weeks? It started with the family living with relatives but family friction made it necessary for the Mansons to move out. That's when their auto became more than just transportation.

They began to rely on friends and some relatives for occasional sanitary and bathing needs but were unable to find a place to live, even temporarily.

Mrs. Manson said that the three children share the back seat of the auto while she and her husband shared the front seat. During meal times the auto also became their dining room.

About a week ago they finally had a prospect on a house and placed a large portion of their savings as a down payment for the first month's rent. They never got the house though, because the previous tenant didn't move out.

Since the weather was getting a bit cool at night and they couldn't keep warm in the auto, they finally used the rent money for a motel room for a few nights.

The family's initial help came from the American Red Cross through the United Way's 1-to-4 family disaster program which supplied them with a clothing order at a local store to help clothe the children, in addition to some cash. At the time of their visit to the Red Cross they were still living with their relatives. The Red Cross also provided lodging for the family for one night. Protestant Welfare also gave the family some clothing.

Also helping the family was the Venice Township office which has supplied two meals and two nights' lodging, as well as financial help with food stamps and prescription costs.

The township staff members also have donated clothing to the family from their own homes.

Another factor that strongly affects the Manson family is that Wayne Manson is a disabled veteran and has been out of work for some time. This leaves the family income at a low level with only monthly Social Security benefits being received.

The Veterans Administration is being contacted to see if it can help the family, or at least Manson, in some way.

The future of the Manson family is definitely much brighter today than it has been for more than two weeks but help by the local agencies is limited.

Perhaps the family's plight emphasizes the need for more coordination between the many agencies which are established to help the citizens, and a somewhat more sympathetic ear for those in need.

Efforts by the United Way, Red Cross and Venice Township provided lodging at a motel hotel for the family Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights of this week. Housing officials who went to Springfield on other matters, yesterday hope to Plan parking for town hall

Granite City Council members, convened as the Town Board, approved Tuesday night the purchase by the township of three parcels of property on Delmar Avenue to be used as a parking area for the new town building now under construction at 21st Street and Delmar Avenue.

Under the Town Board action, the township acquired three apartment units and lots at 2109, 2111, 2113, 2115, 2117 and 2119 Delmar Ave.

Cost of the purchases was $62,000. The property was bought from John W. Harvey. The buildings will be razed and parking lot facilities constructed.

EPA restrictions here being reduced

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency announced Monday afternoon in Springfield that, as of Sept. 1, 140 facilities are on Restricted Status, prohibiting sewer connection permits, and 52 facilities are currently on the Critical Review list.

Restricted Status is defined as the Agency determination that a sewer or lift station has reached hydraulic capacity or that a sewage treatment plant has reached design capacity. Those listed by the EPA include the Granite City-Nameeki area of Granite City.

Critical Review means that the EPA has determined that a sewer lift station is approaching hydraulic capacity or that a sewage treatment plant is approaching design capacity such that additional sewer connection permit applications will require close scrutiny.

City Engineer Monroe Brewer said the Nameeki area sewer system has been on restricted status with EPA for the past two years because of sewer breaks which existed throughout the area.

He said the restriction applied, however, to sewer connection permits, and areas involving a number of houses, rather than on an individual basis. Requests for sewer connection permits for individual homes or small business buildings have been approved without restrictions.

Since the city has repaired many of its major sewer breaks during the last two years, an application asking that EPA remove the restriction in the Nameeki area will be filed as soon as the sewer division of the Street Department completes replacement of the Franklin Avenue sewer.

Brewer said about 100 feet of this line, connecting with the lift station near Amos Avenue, remains to be completed. When it is completed, most of the major breaks in the Nameeki area will have been repaired or replaced, Brewer added.

Other bids submitted were: Ralph Korte of Highland, $1,333,400; S. M. Wilson of Granite City, $1,402,433; J. J. Altman of East St. Louis, $1,438,200; M. H. Wolfe of Granite City, $1,473,000; and William Construction of Freeburg, Ill., $1,523,135.

Superintendent of Schools John Falchett notified the CDB Wednesday morning of the board's action.

Henry R. Gabriel, architect for the Madison school district, said that groundbreaking and construction may start in early October if the insurance and other permits comply with CDB requirements.

The total budget of the project is $2,877,764 of which the CDB pays about 70 per cent.

A school spokesman said that the district hopes to have fairly mild weather during the next few months in order to get the sides and roof up so that work could be done this winter on the interior.

Other bids submitted were: Ralph Korte of Highland, $1,333,400; S. M. Wilson of Granite City, $1,402,433; J. J. Altman of East St. Louis, $1,438,200; M. H. Wolfe of Granite City, $1,473,000; and William Construction of Freeburg, Ill., $1,523,135.

Recommends Fines for appointment

U.S. Senator Adlai Stevenson III Monday sent a letter to President Jimmy Carter recommending that Gerald Fines, acting U.S. Attorney for the Southern District of Illinois, be named permanent U.S. attorney for the district.

Fines has been coordinating an ongoing federal investigation into Madison County governmental matters for some time and a federal grand jury has been studying the findings of that investigation since early this summer.

WOVEN WOODS FEATURED AT DECORATING CENTER

A new collection of woven wood shades, regarded as one of the most popular items in window fashions today, is being introduced at the Sherwin-Williams Decorating Center in Granite City. Called Perfect Touch, the collection features 30 patterns designed exclusively for Sherwin-Williams.

"This new line combines earth tones and natural yarns with warm woods," said Roderick G. Winterberg, manager of the decorating center at 3206 Nameeki Road.

"Overlaid and open-weave patterns give window fashions a hand-crafted look. To introduce the woven woods collection, he is offering one-third off on every Perfect Touch pattern through Oct. 31.

When something comes up and your balance is down... Just Write

It's Granny's Reserve Cash Checking Plan

With the "Just-Write Account" from Granite City Trust, you can pay bills and buy things even when your budget is tight. It provides you with a reserve cash fund, from which you can borrow extra money simply by writing a check in excess of your checking account balance.

So you're always covered for emergencies such as auto repairs, medical bills and home improvements...for bargain buys like the color TV that goes on sale...for special occasions like vacations.

How to withdraw and never overdraw

The "Just-Write Account" application is simple. Once you qualify, we set up a cash reserve (from $500 to $5,000) to back up your Granite City Trust checking account. When you need more money than you have in your account, just write the check you need. We'll automatically transfer the money from the reserve (in multiples of $100) to cover your check. And you don't pay a thing for the reserve until you use it!

For full details and an application, just stop by Granite City Trust. Let Granny show you how you can have peace of mind with a checking account that you can never accidentally overdraw.

Clarence Wallaces observe 40th year

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wallace, 314 Myrtle Ave., were honored last week with a surprise reception and party in observance of their 40th wedding anniversary.

The affair was given by their son, Donald Wallace of Arlington, Va., and son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard (Phyllis) Talley of Granite City, at the Nameoki United Methodist Church.

The couple was married in the home of Wallace's brother, Howard Wallace, in Burbank, Calif., Sept. 12, 1937. They have lived in Granite City since 1946.

Wallace retired in June 1974 from Granite City Steel, where he was employed as a welder in the Hot Strip Department's 80-inch line.

He is a trustee of the Nameoki Methodist Church, a former president of the Fidelity Class and a member of the church Building Committee.

Mrs. Wallace is a charter member of the church, taught kindergarten level classes for 25 years in Sunday school and is active in the Women's Missionary Society, Fidelity Class and quilting group.

At the anniversary party, Mrs. Steve Burk of St. Charles, Mo., sang a medley of songs for the couple, including "I Love You Truly," "O Perfect Love" and "Because." She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Phyllis Talley.

The buffet table was attractively appointed with silver candelabra, tall tapers and red roses. A wedding cake was the centerpiece.

Many relatives of the honorees attended the event, including the couple's grandsons, Scott Wallace of Arlington, Va., and Jason Talley of Granite City.

Mrs. Wallace's brothers and families present were James Dix, Professor John Dix of Nashville, Tenn., Wilbur Dix and Mrs. Hugh Dix and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Richardson.

Wallace's brothers and families attending were M. H. Wallace of Burbank, Calif., and Harold Wallace and his wife, and a sister, Mrs. Girene Travis.

Other guests honoring the couple included Miss Margaret Wall, Arlington, Va.; Mrs. Dan Michaels and daughter, Dana Godfrey; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Dix, Nashville, Tenn.

The Rev. William Fester, former pastor of Nameoki Methodist Church, his wife and daughter, Michelle, of Alton; Mrs. Fannie Hackworth, Collinsville; Mr. and Mrs. Tom King, Ferguson, Mo.

He went to be with our Lord September 22, 1976
A rose had to remain Alone in September
Date and Cynthia (Levert) Campbell
In Fall to remember.
As the hours into days grow
The clock ticks time away
Sometime the heart will miss
As we remember our Ray.
The light of his smile
The touch of his love
We miss him each day
Our memories are dear
God called him away
His loved ones—left here
Our minds are at rest
With peace in our heart
God always knows best
When loved ones must part.
We will see him someday
In heaven so bright
For Christ is the Way,
The Truth and The Light!
Christ hung on the cross
To save you and I
Only the body is a loss
The Soul—will never die.
Through Christ—We will see
Our loved ones again!
For all who loved him

Lincoln Heritage Trail well-traveled in autumn

There's something about autumn that sparks the wanderlust in nearly all of us. A welcome combination of cool nights, crisp days and colors seems to defy description but makes it an ideal season for travel.

If you've a mind to hit the trail, Illinois tourism officials say, pick one that's scenic, historic and fun... the Lincoln Heritage Trail. Along its route this season are nature's colorful best and a host of festivals heralding the arrival of fall.

The Trail, a 2,200-mile, medallion-marked route, cuts a lazy circle through three states, tracing the movements and career of Abraham Lincoln.

Following a network of state and federal highways in Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois, the trail meanders through the land young Lincoln knew and loved.

Whether a student of Lincoln or a person with a passing interest in the man who became the 16th President, travelers find in Lincoln's homes and haunts — a vivid profile of the forces that shaped his early years.

Theoretically, the circular Trail has no beginning or end. But one logical place to start a Lincoln Heritage Trail trip is in Hodgenville, Ky., where Lincoln's own life began.

From there, the Trail winds north toward Indiana, Lincoln's home for 12 years, and on into Illinois, where it comes to a climatic end at his tomb in Springfield. In between, there is much to see and do.

Autumn on the Kentucky branch of the Lincoln Heritage Trail means festivals. The Trail's main route through the bluegrass state touches on all the old Lincoln homesteads, the Lincoln birthplace and sites important in Lincoln's adult life.

Include a stop at Louisville Oct. 1-2 for the German-style Butchertown Oktoberfest. Those same dates, just across town, the St. James Court Art Fair will feature exhibits by more than 500 artists and craftsmen.

The following weekend is the Classic Antique Flea Market at Louisville's Raceland Mall Oct. 7-9.

If one's interests tend toward music, there's plenty of it along the Kentucky branch of the Trail. At Frankfort is live country music each Saturday at Country Place. And at Owensboro, the Windy Hollow happens every Saturday at the Windy Hollow Recreation Area.

Perryville, Ky., was the site of one of the bloodiest battles of the Civil War. The encounter, which took the lives of 2,241 Union soldiers and 1,222 Confederates, marked the end of attempts by the Confederates to take Kentucky.

On Oct. 8, the people of Perryville remember that struggle with the 17th annual Perryville Battlefield Trek beginning at 7 a.m. at the Perryville Battlefield State Shrine. The following day, Oct. 9, they'll stage a re-enactment of the Battle of Perryville beginning at 1 p.m.

Although Lincoln was born in Kentucky, it was in Indiana that he figured he grew up. Here he attended school when he could, split many a rail and read every book he could borrow.

The people of Indiana helped shape young Abe and today, along the Trail, they remember him with autumn celebrations that recall America's pioneer traditions.

At the Lincoln Boyhood National Memorial near Lincoln City, life as it was lived on the frontier is practiced even today.

The National Park Service maintains the Lincoln farm lived there.

Period plants bloom in the garden animals fill the barnyard and costumed hostesses demonstrate wool carding, spinning, butter churning and dozens of other skills that once provided the necessities of life.

Lincoln was a man of the soil and Indians remember with a variety of harvest festivals. These include: Harvest Homecoming, Oct. 1-9 in New Albany; Orange County Pumpkin Festival, Oct. 3-9 in West Baden and French Lick; Days-in-the-Country, Oct. 8, 9, 15 and 16 at Eagle Creek Park, Indianapolis; and the Parke County Covered Bridge Festival, Oct. 14-23 in Rockville.

Illinois is rich in Lincoln's presence. The Trail enters the state at the very spot where his family first arrived in 1830, and travels the ground Lincoln himself covered as a young lawyer and able statesman.

Along its route this season, festivals abound.

Folk singing, dancing and pioneer arts and crafts highlight activities at the Fall Crafts Festival Oct. 7-9 at the Clayville Stagecoach Stop and Tavern will be available to festival visitors.

The Old State Capitol Plaza in Springfield is the scene of a music festival beginning at 5:30 p.m. each Friday through Oct. 14.

Also in Springfield is the Indian Summer Festival at

LEADING THE MARCH during the annual Lewis & Clark Pilgrimage during the weekend were members of Boy Scout Troop 21, sponsored by First Presbyterian Church. They were selected to lead, because the troop has been represented on the march in each of the past Lincoln Memorial Gardens, Oct. 15-16. Fall nature walks and demonstrations of such pioneer skills as weaving, rail-splitting and soap making are part of the fun.

On three separate Sundays in November, Flanagan House in Peoria will feature mini-festivals recalling the prairie tradition of staging "one last bash" to cement friendships before the coming of winter. These "Kettledrums" will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. Nov. 6, 13 and 20.

Scenic landscapes and rugged beauty are part of the America that Lincoln loved. And the Lincoln Trail has plenty of both. All along the route this season, travelers will find the vivid russets, golds and reds that make autumn so special.

The Lincoln Heritage Trail is well blazoned with metal markers to help visitors find their way through America's past and present. For a free brochure and map of the Trail, Chicago's Mayor Bilandic, and a host of mayors throughout the state have issued proclamations in honor of Candy Day.

Lions and friends will be manning street corners and shopping centers all day Oct. 14 to give away candy and accept donations for the blind and visually handicapped.

More than 3.5 million rolls of candy will be given away.

Coordinating the effort is the Lions of Illinois Foundation, 1515 North Harlem Avenue, Oak Park, Ill. Norman R. Dahl, executive administrator of the Foundation, said the Foundation administers the following programs financed by Candy Day:

A mobile glaucoma screening unit, which last year screened 50,000 for diabetes and hypertension as well as for glaucoma; Camp Lions for 200 handicapped children each summer; an eye donor registration program for people who want to pledge their eyes after death for corneal transplants and research; the collection of used eyeglasses, sent overseas; the publishing of the Illinois Directory of Services for the Visually Handicapped, and a social and recreational services program, which coordinates efforts to help the blind and visually handicapped.

Candy Day money also is donated to Hardley School for the Blind, Winnetka; Leaders Dogs for the Blind, Rochester, Mich.; Dialogue with the Blind; University of Illinois Department of Ophthalmology; and a low vision program at the Illinois College of Optometry.

"The people of Illinois have been very generous in their support of Candy Day," said A. G. Marcheschi of Niles, Foundation president. "With the help of the Lions the media, and the citizens, many blind and visually handicapped people will be able to become self-sufficient and countless other people may be saved from the traumas of a sightless life."

The Candy Day Campaign last year raised more than $1 million.

Mr. and Mrs. John Juhasz and son, Dan, 2933 Madison Ave., have returned from a two week stay in Europe. They were accompanied by Mrs. Juhasz's brother, John Papp, of New Douglas, Ill.

They were the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Capt. and Mrs. Roy Phillips of Langolfen, Germany.

Capt. Phillips is stationed at Wildflecken Army Base, where he received a promotion June 6. This was the Juhasz' first visit to see their grandson, Michael Kenneth, who was born May 7 in Würzburg, Germany. While in Europe, the local residents traveled by train to Vienna, thence to Budapest, Debrecen and Sarospatok in Hungary.

They were guests of relatives and visited the boyhood home of Papp and the home of their grandparents.

The visitors returned to Germany to spend some time with Capt. and Mrs. Phillips before departing from Frankfurt for home.

Theta Theta topic—Marriage

Theta Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority was entertained last week in the home of Mrs. Pam Doctor in Collinsville. Miss Cindy Blumenstock was co-hostess.

Sandy DeMoulin and Jane Jackstadt gave the program, entitled "Marriage."

Chapter members attended a family picnic, also last week, at the home of Mrs. Tracy and her husband, Roger, 2028 Amos Ave. A potluck dinner and volleyball were enjoyed.

In keeping with a Theta Theta tradition Miss Blumenstock presented a box of candy to announce her engagement to fellow members. Joyce Sullivan won a "grab bag" gift.

Plans were advanced for a "ghost party" in October, and Mrs. Linda Yates was assigned the hostess duties for the next meeting, Oct. 6.

Refreshments were served to those named and to Sharon Taylor, Barbara Mihalech, Mary Morgan, Judy Reidelberger, Ellen Brokaw, Martha Gianakos, Phyllis Talley and Jane Yates.

ERA support conferences scheduled

ERA Illinois has announced ERA support conferences will be held at the College of DuPage in Glen Ellyn on Saturday, Sept. 24, and in Springfield, Saturday, Oct. 8.

The conferences will run from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. and are being organized by ERA Illinois, the statewide coalition of individuals and organizations seeking ratification in Illinois of the proposed 27th amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

The conferences will feature such speakers as Marilyn D. Clancy, former candidate for Congress and co-chair of the Legislative Committee for the National Women's Political Caucus, and Anne Pollis, president of Housewives for ERA.

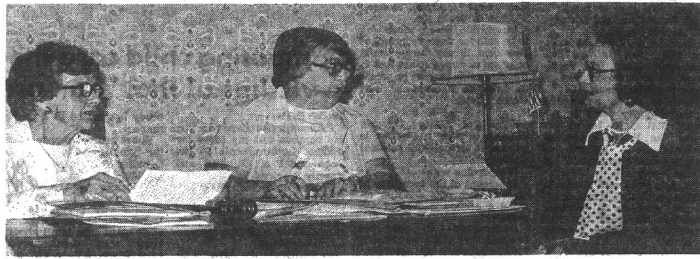

There also will be four workshops to inform and train people to work in their communities for passage of the Equal Rights Amendment.

"With the March 22, 1979, deadline for ratification only one election away, we cannot afford just silent support anymore. There are millions of Illinoisans who believe in the principles of equality and justice, and the time has come to learn what each one of us can do to insure that equality of rights under the law is not denied on account of sex," Dorothy Haegle of Alton, spokesperson for ERA Illinois in this area, said.

"The workshops will be: Organizing your Legislative District, Campaigning for ERA and ERA-supportive Candidates, Analyzing the Politics of ERA, and Fund Raising and Public Relations," she added. ERA Illinois asked that all ERA supporters interested in attending the conference call 312-846-7474. White House insensitive to growing steel unemployment

The Presidency is said to isolate White House occupants to consider degree and certainly Pres. Carter is out of touch with—and insensitive to—problems facing American steelmaking firms and workers.

He is continuing to box them in financially with price "jaw-boning," and at the same time his administration is neglecting to enforce existing laws against destructive steel pricing and supply strategies by foreign producers.

A series of articles in the Press-Record has documented the situation during August and this month, and new evidence developed this week suggests serious concern here and across the nation.

Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. announced it has been forced by government controls, foreign imports and environmental considerations to close part of its facilities in Campbell, Ohio, and terminate 5,000 jobs.

R. C. Rieder, chairman of Lykes Corp., the Youngstown firm's parent company, said, "The pricing of steel products has been subjected to government interference by such pressures as jaw-boning, demands for pre-notification of price increases, rollbacks and unjustified pricing investigations, a trend that has resulted in de facto price controls over the past 15 years."

"The steady and persistent erosion of profit margins, severely restricted by foreign imports, governmental price restraint and mounting environmental regulation, have brought about the circumstances which required this decision."

"Non-productive expenditures are using up the capital resources badly needed to improve efficiency and to lower costs to remain competitive. Costs of mandated expenditures are not being recovered in the market place. Our government has failed to react to the serious impact on the viability of the steel industry."

Bethlehem Steel Corp., a short time ago announced elimination of 7,300 jobs at its Johnstown and Lackawanna, Pa., plants. Vice-chairman, Frederic W. West Jr., said Tuesday night during a talk in St. Louis that unfair aspects of world steel trade are "sowing the seeds of disaster" for both producers and buyers of steel in the coming years.

"Too few Americans," he warned, "including those in industry and government, appreciate the long-range implications of what is happening to a major U.S. industry and employer. Import prices often don't cover the full costs of production and sale, and our competitors in many cases get significant help from their governments."

"We want Pres. Carter to declare that his country simply won't tolerate the currently high levels of imports, that the government will enforce the trade laws, and that mounting public pressure will lead to trade barriers unless foreign firms mend their ways."

U. S. Steel on Tuesday petitioned the U. S. Treasury Department for protective action, "guaranteed" by the Anti-Dumping Act of 1921. The company asked the government to ignore a treaty that has cost more than 100,000 American steelmaking jobs.

The problem being cited—if ignored—could become as massive as the energy supply dilemma that is occupying so much of Mr. Carter's time and attention.

If America becomes more and more dependent on foreign nations for its basic steel supply, production and sourcing prices and reduced supplies by foreign companies seem sure to be repeated. The effect of such a steel shortage, and attendant cost escalation, could be as devastating as that of the past oil embargo.

Lack of liability policy leaves Pontoon Beach vulnerable

Pontoon Beach is believed to have never had any type of liability insurance for village policemen or patrol cars. As recently as three months ago, the village board studied the possibility of purchasing such insurance but took no action.

Squad cars potentially could become involved in an accident in which an officer, pedestrian child or motorist would be seriously hurt.

If a lawsuit followed, the judgment or settlement could cripple the finances of the municipality. To the extent that the village's resources are limited, the injured person might encounter difficult problems in getting his or her claim paid.

Insurance cost trends have prompted some organizations to decide in favor of "self-insurance," but this would appear to be impractical in the instance cited.

Revenue bonds attract a new GC industry; no city debt

Granite City municipal officials deserve applause for arranging and authorizing a plan under which $800,000 in industrial revenue bonds will be issued.

Feralloy Corp. of Chicago will construct and equip a steel processing plant southwest of the 25th Street railroad crossing, providing jobs and economic activity. Payments from plant operations will retire the bonds, which will not constitute any indebtedness for the city.

The approach has proved successful elsewhere and can be a positive step in expanding the local employment and tax base.

Hum of some machines is too noisy

To the Editor: I've had a lot of humming noise from Granite City steel mills and it does drive me nuts.

I don't know who to appeal to, but I only hope something is done soon. From what I can learn, it comes from the galvanizing department at 20th and Monroe near the entrance.

I think it highly unfair that we should have to endure such a nuisance and especially knowing we have Environmental Protection Agency regulations.

For 30 years I worked in die and special machine design and, on occasion, designed baffles and sound-proofing enclosures for noisy machines, so I know something can be done.

Farmers see need to stimulate development of energy supply

By JAMES C. TIPPETT
Illinois Farm Bureau
The current state of our nation's trade deficit clearly reflects one thing—the price we have to pay for imported oil, on which we rely as we continue to run up the cost of America's energy needs.

That trade deficit continues despite the remarkable trade records we have made in marketing our farm products overseas.

The current state of our nation's energy situation clearly reflects another thing—it is not likely to be solved by President Carter's energy proposal, at least in the version which passed the House of Representatives and now awaits action by the Senate.

The energy needs of agriculture are critical to the nation's economy.

Farmers believe that adequate energy can best be supplied through the market system—a system which allocates available supplies—a system which provides incentives to the private sector to increase domestic gas and oil exploration and development as well as alternative sources of energy.

That is why farmers must surely be disappointed, even concerned, about House Bill 844, the President's proposal. This legislation continues and expands the present maze of government price controls and regulations on oil and gas. It provides little incentive for new exploration or development.

In fact, the proposal is more of a new tax-raising plan than it is a meaningful energy plan.

One aspect of the proposal before the Senate is ironic at best.

It proposes a crude oil equalization tax which would substantially raise the cost of crude oil products without providing the needed price incentive for future exploration for oil reserves.

The irony is that it would use the tax to raise the price of a domestic product to the level established by a foreign cartel.

With Al and Dan on the left, state Controller Michael J. Bakalis, who has pruned himself out on the political limb with previous declarations that he would like to run for governor.

But the word beneath the Statehouse dome is that young Mike, 38, has second thoughts about the big time and would prefer, like Dixon, to carry out whatever exciting programs there might be in the comptroller's office for the next four years.

Democrats think Thompson is too strong to defeat

(Press-Record
Springfield Bureau)

A report had drifted down to the Statehouse from Chicago that the security guard for Mayor Michael Bilandic had been doubled.

Assassination threat?

No. He's afraid that if he ventures out on the street not thoroughly protected a bunch of fellow Democrats will grab him and throw him in the governor's race.

Politics is a fascinating game and certainly one not without its humor. Democratic campaign orators still like to wring a laugh from those old Coolidge and Hoover stories.

But today in Illinois, at least, the big joke is on the Democrats. They find themselves in a situation that is ironic if not ludicrous.

Theirs is clearly recognized as the majority party in the United States. Its leader occupies the White House. It controls both houses of Congress and both houses of the Illinois legislature.

Yet, in a state with almost 12 million population, it seemingly cannot produce a serious candidate eager to run and expectant of being elected governor.

Democratic critics may scoff, sneer or sneer, about the blue jeans and tee shirts of Republican Gov. Big Jim Thompson. They want to take him on.

Two big party names, Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon and former Gov. Dan Walker, backed off in scenarios that were about the funniest thing around since Abbott and Costello did their "Who's On First?" skit.

Dixon was first on stage at Springfield and explained that he had decided against challenging either Thompson or U.S. Sen. Charles H. Percy because "I don't want to remain secretary of state and fully implement the exciting programs we have initiated."

Cited as prominent among these was the staggered "registration of automobile so motorists would not have to attach their license plates during the three cold months of the year."

That is just for starters. Dixon was as excited as a Cardinal-Cub series in September. "This was just for openers," he did not become truly eloquent until he turned to the political aspects of his Big Decision.

With a tongue-in-cheek tactility that would have done credit to that old GOP target Calvin Coolidge, Dixon declared with emphasis that "I don't hold with the notion that people of our party may be shying away from the battle because of Republican strength. That's just nonsense."

During the press conference someone got around to the obvious question. Was the fact that Dixon could expect easy reelection as secretary of state but would probably be a loser against Thompson or Percy a factor in his decision?

After a brief hesitation came the straight-faced reply. "It was not the primary factor in my ultimate decision."

Outside of that Mrs. Lincoln, how did you like the play?

But as has often been the case in recent years the Oscar for top performance went to Dapper Dan Walker in his Chicago production.

In stepping away from another round in the Illinois political ring, which he has so endured over the past five years, Walker solemnly intoned that he would have defeated Thompson had he challenged him.

Sure, and Ohio State would have beaten Southern Cal in the Rose Bowl.

Of course anyone who has spent an hour with Dan Walker knows that if he thought he had even a remote chance of beating Thompson he would be running (walking?) from Chicago to Cairo tomorrow.

With Al and Dan on the left, state Controller Michael J. Bakalis, who has pruned himself out on the political limb with previous declarations that he would like to run for governor.

But the word beneath the Statehouse dome is that young Mike, 38, has second thoughts about the big time and would prefer, like Dixon, to carry out whatever exciting programs there might be in the comptroller's office for the next four years.

But he may not be able to get off the limb before it is sawed. For as Capitol cynics say, in political terms, there hasn't been a Greek in such a fix since the Athenians got themselves trapped by the Persians at Thermopylae.

It all brings to mind the oft-quoted Will Rogers:

"I am a member of no organized political party. I am a Democratic Party member."

Sooner or later, one can be sure, the Democrats will come up with a candidate for governor. They will probably find someone to run against Republican Attorney General William J. Scott, too.

Meanwhile there is something to be said for those reports that President Jimmy Carter would be as happy to set foot in Illinois at this time as he would to open an account in Bert Lance's bank.

Secy. of State Dixon's decision to seek re-election is popular in virtually all political circles.

It's popular with: Thompson's office who are now of certain degree of job security.

Democrats in general because they think by running for re-election he will keep the rest of the ticket;

Mike Bakalis and Alex Seith, who aspire to be the Democratic candidates for governor and senator, respectively;

Gov. James Thompson and Sen. Charles H. Percy, who are Republicans who will not now have to face their most formidable challenger.

The reaction to the announcement presents a remarkable contrast to a very similar situation which occurred some years ago.

At that time, Michael Howlett was riding high as the incumbent secretary of state. When he would seek re-election, a great number of Democrats flinched and said he should become a candidate for governor.

The late Chicago mayor, Richard Daley, eventually urged him to run for governor.

Since Howlett's campaign ended in disaster for the Democrats, they did not nearly so many Democrats are quick to encourage Dixon to challenge Thompson.

Competing child care theories in state—victims of that 'war' are the children

To the Editor:

I am writing to share with you my concern and my ideas for making improvements in the Department of Children and Family Services.

This agency, which deals with over 28,000 children in our state has been severely criticized in recent years in both Democratic and Republican administrations.

As Republican spokesmen on the House Appropriations Committee, I have been concerned with the problems of the agency for some time. During the coming year, I intend to work toward solving the agency's problems. This effort will be my top priority.

Following are ideas I have formulated to deal with serious problems.

As minority spokesman on the Appropriations Committee, it is part of my obligation to recommend to our members certain programs for the coming fiscal year. It is my hope that the legislature will give special consideration to the economic or programmatic problems and should be closed.

B. Last reports indicate that DCF is responsible for 1,538 child abuse cases. Its cost in 1977 was $2,022,339, or $31,000 yearly per child. The school cannot be justified on an economic or programmatic basis and should be closed.

C. Foster care payments must be increased to reflect the cost of living and open adoption fees and establish a flat monthly rate. The total monthly rate in fiscal 1976-77 was $712,000.

D. The cost of the red tape, paperwork, voucher errors and corrections, use of staff to record, check and regulate the purchase of socks, shirts, diapers and such could be better spent on additional purchase of care or on-line staff services.

E. Foster care payments must be increased to reflect the cost of living and open adoption fees and establish a flat monthly rate. The total monthly rate in fiscal 1976-77 was $712,000.

F. The division of authority between the caseworker and foster parent as to the responsibility for child care decisions is a constant source of friction and must be clearly defined.

G. A uniform policy of ongoing and mandatory training programs for foster parents should be implemented.

H. Foster parents should be given paid "time off" vacations from foster care in order to ready to respond in a positive manner.

But it will not simply answer the trumpet call for more spending as an answer to some pressing problems.

Providing for the needs of children and promoting an emotionally stable and therapeutic environment are what child care is all about. I trust that these recommendations will serve as an impetus for a long overdue cooperative effort between the department, the executive, private child care agencies and workers, professionals, and charitable organizations and the General Assembly in meeting our obligations to children who are under our care.

I propose the following policy recommendations: A. The Illinois Soldiers and Sailors Children's Home operated by DCF has an average daily child population of 65. Its cost in fiscal 1977 was $2,022,339, or $31,000 yearly per child. The school cannot be justified on an economic or programmatic basis and should be closed.

B. Last reports indicate that DCF is responsible for 1,538 child abuse cases. Its cost in 1977 was $2,022,339, or $31,000 yearly per child. The school cannot be justified on an economic or programmatic basis and should be closed.

C. Foster care payments must be increased to reflect the cost of living and open adoption fees and establish a flat monthly rate. The total monthly rate in fiscal 1976-77 was $712,000.

D. The cost of the red tape, paperwork, voucher errors and corrections, use of staff to record, check and regulate the purchase of socks, shirts, diapers and such could be better spent on additional purchase of care or on-line staff services.

E. Foster care payments must be increased to reflect the cost of living and open adoption fees and establish a flat monthly rate. The total monthly rate in fiscal 1976-77 was $712,000.

F. The division of authority between the caseworker and foster parent as to the responsibility for child care decisions is a constant source of friction and must be clearly defined.

G. A uniform policy of ongoing and mandatory training programs for foster parents should be implemented.

H. Foster parents should be given paid "time off" vacations from foster care in order to reassess and readjust themselves. Caring for a stream of unknown children in your own home must "burn out" an individual.

H. Public Aid should empower DCF to act as its agent and issue the permanent medical "green" cards. Presently, DCF issues an emergency card and Public Aid issues the permanent card on a monthly basis.

This system has resulted in lost, late, never-received cards, chaos and an open invitation to abuse and misuse. DCF should issue and be responsible for its own "green" cards.

I. The educational and experience requirements for caseworkers must be more clearly defined and, in fact, increased.

J. A special class of caseworkers should be established—specifically trained and experienced to deal with child sex abuse cases.

K. The governor should sign the Emergency Caretaker Legislation.

L. Studies indicate that DCF removes too many children from their homes only to have the courts return them. More children are removed from their homes in Cook County on a percentage basis than in any other county in the nation.

Obviously, some policy and direction must be developed for the caseworkers.

M. The courts often mandate services and programs for children that are not easily obtainable, cannot be justified economically or by benefiting the child, and place DCF in a subservient role to the court rather than acting as a positive decision-making influence on the child.

N. Foster care, group home care, individual living and even institutional care all have their legitimate purpose. No one avenue of care can supply the needs of every child or society.

O. The agency must develop a more positive and open attitude in this regard and a closer relationship with the various child care agencies, professional organizations, charitable groups and foster parents.

P. The war of competing child care philosophies must end. The victims have been the children.

Some limitations on the power of courts in mandating specific programs and expenditures must be considered.

Intelligence agency and the press

Editor and Publisher

magazine—"The allegation by Carl Bernstein, in a foreword to the Rolling Stone article, that more than 400 American journalists... in the past 25 years have secretly carried out assignments for the Central Intelligence Agency" and his assertion that there are "some journalists who are still posted abroad" makes fascinating reading, if true.

Bernstein's assertions are based mainly on statements by present and former CIA officials about what is in CIA files which no one can see.

Practically everyone mentioned in the article has denied the allegations pertaining to them and they, also, are denied access to the files for their own defense.

Those who read the article are given a choice, in most instances, of accepting the charges that a certain journalist had something to do with the CIA at some time in the past, or of accepting denials that it was so.

The author spells out the procedure early in the article: "The general outline of what happened are indisputable; the specifics are harder to come by."

But the author, in a particular journalist was trafficking all over Eastern Europe for the agency; the journalist, who he just had lunch with the station chief.

"CIA sources say flatly that a well-known ABC correspondent worked for the agency between 1953 and 1960; they refuse to identify him."

A high-level CIA official with a prodigious memory said that the New York Times provided cover for about ten CIA operatives between 1953 and 1960; he does not know who the agents were, or who in the newspaper's management made the arrangements."

So it goes. Bernstein sets up the journalist or his associates with an account of what someone told him is in the CIA files and then quotes the denials.

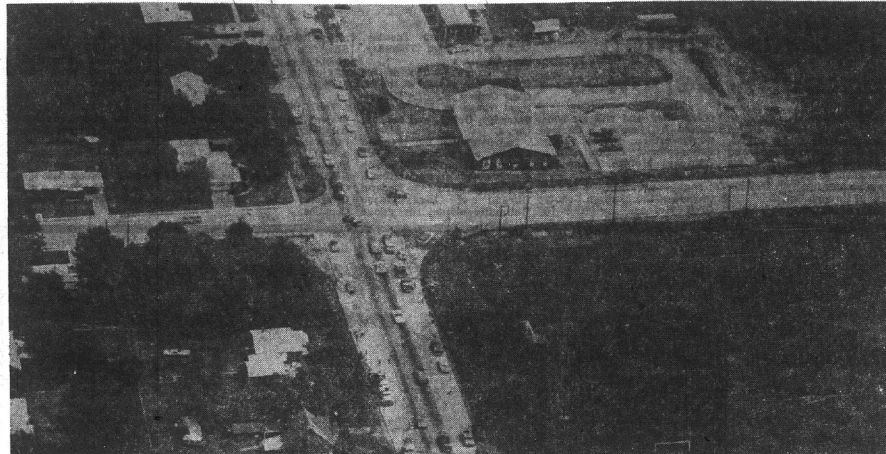

In many cases, prominent persons mentioned are deceased and it is left to their living associates to make the denials.

And, near the end, the author quotes a Rolling Stone writer, admitting the files might be filled with "puffing" by case officers who had written self-serving memos for the files about their dealings with journalists which in many instances could have been innocuous.

Many people will remember that 20 and 25 years ago we were engaged in a vicious Cold War, and that a bloody hot one, the patriotism wasn't considered a dirty word. Bernstein quotes one CIA official who said: "There was a time when it wasn't considered a crime to serve your country."

Joseph Alsop, former syndicated columnist, said it for many of his contemporaries who might think that way but are afraid to say so: "The notion that a newspaperman doesn't have a duty to his country is wrong."

Many people will remember that 20 and 25 years ago we were engaged in a vicious Cold War, and that a bloody hot one, the patriotism wasn't considered a dirty word. Bernstein quotes one CIA official who said: "There was a time when it wasn't considered a crime to serve your country."

BUSY INTERSECTION of Pontoon and Maryville Roads is shown in this aerial view. Pontoon Road runs vertically, with the new portion of Maryville Road running to the right from the intersection. At the top is the Colonial Bank of Granite City, whose adjacent permanent structure is still under construction. At lower right are soccer fields at St. Elizabeth School. Two lanes of the newest section of Maryville Road still remain to be installed, completing a link between Route 203 and Highway 162.

Julian Bond to talk on rights movements

Julian Bond, who has been called "the embodiment of the New Politics," will speak Tuesday, Oct. 4, at 8 p.m. at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in Meridian Hall. His topic, "What's Next—Liberty and Justice for Whom?" will discuss the Equal Rights Amendment, gay liberation, the black movement and Chicano awareness. Bond's lecture is sponsored by the Issues and Ideas Committee of the University Center Board.

His appearance at the 1968 Democratic national convention in Chicago is said by some to have symbolized changes taking place in the party which were soon felt across the nation. He co-chaired the challenge delegation from Georgia at the convention, and his fight there against the "hand-picked" delegation led by then-Governor Lester Maddox helped make his name familiar to Americans of all political persuasions.

He seconded the nomination of Sen. Eugene McCarthy and was himself nominated for vice-president, the first black in history to be so honored. His age (28), however, disqualified him for the post.

Bond's victory over Maddox and the Georgia state party regulars at the 1968 convention ended the traditional "unit role" and ushered in sweeping changes in the Democratic national conventions of 1972 and 1976, historians say.

According to his sponsors, he earlier had brought respectability to dissent against the war in Vietnam by overcoming opposition to his assuming his duly-elected seat in the Georgia legislature.

Vowing his intention to fight against war, Bond had been denied access to the legislature by his colleagues in the Georgia House until the U.S. Supreme Court finally ruled in his favor. Bond sees the "new politics" as an outgrowth of the civil rights movement of the 1960s. As one of the founders of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, he participated in the voting drives, sit-ins and other activities of that movement, until his campaign for state representative in 1965. Soon, the movement gave way to action "within the system."

Since then, Bond has spearheaded a number of grassroots campaigns to foster fuller participation in the political process by minorities. The Southern Elections Fund, the Voter Education Project and the Southern Poverty Law Center all receive a good part of his time and talents today.

"We are changing the color of Southern politics," he comments. "The way to do that is not to go after the big jobs but to concentrate on the little ones closer to the people."

"If enough blacks are elected at the grassroots level, it's bound to have a major impact on politics at the top. And if the South is to be freed politically, it will have to be remade from the school board up."

Tickets for Bond's lecture are $2 for SIUE students and $4 for non-students. They are on sale at the university ticket office located in the SIUE University Center, 692-2320.

Girls admit stealing car

St. Louis notified Jeanane Francis, 2044 Erin Drive, at 9:45 a.m. Sunday that her auto had been found abandoned on the Interstate 55 southbound exit from the Poplar Street Bridge in St. Louis.

The auto had been stolen from her garage after 3:30 a.m. Sunday. Investigation by police and the family led to the questioning of two girls, ages 14 and 15, who allegedly admitted taking the auto. The matter was referred to juvenile authorities.

Bloodmobile visit here on two days

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at St. John's United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road, Granite City, on Monday, Sept. 26, and Tuesday, Sept. 27. The hours will be from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. All residents of the area who are in good health are urged to donate a unit of blood if at all possible.

No appointment is necessary, but an appointment may be made in advance if the donor wishes to do so. St. Elizabeth Hospital in Granite City, and all hospitals in the Missouri-Illinois Blood Region receive their total supply of blood through these bloodmobile visits.

For further information, or to make an appointment, interested donors may call the local Red Cross chapter at 452-7184.

The Church Women United is sponsoring the bloodmobile visit as a community service, with 23 churches actively participating.

To meet the increased demand for blood, however, it is necessary for everyone in the community to cooperate for the benefit of all, officials said.

RECEIVES SACRAMENTS

Chie Edwards, 18 Jeanette Drive, received the sacraments of baptism and confirmation at St. Margaret Mary Church, with Fr. Edward Groesch officiating. Sponsor was Edward Rakowski, 62 Karen Drive. Edwards received his first holy communion at 6 p.m. Mass at St. Margaret Mary.

Parents Day at SIUE on Sunday

Parents Day will be held Sunday at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for parents, relatives and friends of entering freshmen and community college transfer students, according to Jim Rotter, coordinator of the New Student Life Program. Anyone else interested in learning more about the university campus is also invited to attend, Rotter said.

For the convenience of those attending church services, registration for Parents Day activities will begin at 11 a.m. in the Goshen Lounge of the University Center and continue throughout the afternoon. At noon, a welcoming address will be given in Meridian Ballroom of the center.

Throughout the afternoon, visitors may attend informational workshops on the activities and services offered students by the university. A workshop on the classroom experience will provide information on attendance, testing, grading, teachers and other valuable tips on academic survival.

A workshop providing information on grants, scholarships, loans and student employment opportunities during the student's stay at SIUE will be given by the office of Student Work and Financial Assistance. University Placement Services will provide advice relating to the present and future job market.

Other informational workshops will be given by University Housing, Health Service, Student Development Services, General Studies and University Police. Counselors will also be on hand to provide assistance to students in choosing a major, Rotter said. University Ambassadors will conduct extensive tours of the campus facilities, beginning at 4 p.m.

For the convenience of those people participating in Parents Day activities, the University Club dining room will be open from 5 until 7 p.m. The Club is located on the second floor of the University Center. A 50 per cent discount will be given to all registered guests who dine in the restaurant.

"Camino Real," Tennessee Williams' cosmic fantasy, will be presented in the Communications Building theater at 8:15 p.m. The Acting Company, a permanent professional ensemble which tours a repertoire of classical and modern plays, will perform the play.

Tickets for the play are available at the University Center ticket office. Non-students will be admitted for $4 and tickets for SIUE students will be $3. All registered participants in Parents Day activities will receive a 50 per cent discount on the purchase price of their tickets, Rotter said.

Reservations for Parents Day will be obtained by contacting Jim Rotter at (618) 692-2686 or (618) 692-2689. Free parking will be available in the visitors parking lot which may be located by following blue directional signs from any campus entrance.

GC crimes drop 22.4%

Major crimes in eight categories dropped 22.4 per cent during August below the number of similar crimes in the same month a year ago, according to a report released by Granite City Chief of Police Ronald Veizer.

The report lists a total of 225 crimes last month, down 65 from 290 reported during August 1976, with 37 of last month's crimes cleared by arrests, down 11 from the 68 cases cleared by arrests in August 1976.

The report shows a total of 144 traffic arrests during August, up from 129 in the same month a year ago. There were 119 other types of arrests, down from 146, making a total of 263 arrests during August, compared to a total of 275 arrests in August 1976.

A total of 49 additional charges were filed in last month's arrests for a total of 312 charges of all kinds, down 30 from the total of 342 charges of all kinds in August 1976.

Last month's arrests brought to 2,381 the total number of charges filed during the eight months of this year, compared to 2,895 charges filed during the same period last year.

Crimes reported during August showed reductions in all of the eight major crime categories. These included one homicide, down from two in August 1976, no forcible rape cases, down one, and one robbery case, down from two. The largest reduction was in the number of auto thefts, with ten cases reported in August, down 14, or 58.4 per cent, from 24 auto theft cases in August 1976.

Thirty-one auto burglary cases were reported last month, down 28, or 45.6 per cent, from 59 cases reported the same month a year ago. Assault cases last month totaled 25, down five from 30, or 16.6 per cent, and burglary cases totaled 44, down six from 50, or 12 per cent.

No fatal accidents occurred in the city during August, according to the report, but there were 41 accidents in which 65 persons were injured, and 131 accidents involving property damage only.

These figures compare to 44 accidents in which 52 persons were injured, and 117 property damage accidents during August 1976. Accident statistics show a total of 311 accidents so far this year in which 452 persons were injured, and 1,079 property damage accidents.

SPIDER MAN? A student atop the Religious Center's geodesic dome at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville looks like Spider Man weaving a web to encircle the earth. SIUE student photographer Cindy Kyle talked a fellow student photographer, Mark Wakeford, into perching on the dome for this picture. The 40-foot diameter dome designed by R. Buckminster Fuller is a transparent multi-faceted miniature of the earth. SIUE appears at the zenith of the dome map.
